FUNDING TO MEDIA ARTS PROGRAMS, 1999-2000

---

- In 1999-2000, the Canada Council for the Arts provided grants worth $8.8 million to media arts in Canada.
- Media arts funding is evenly distributed between artists and organizations, with the Council awarding $4.1 million in grants to individual media artists and $4.7 million to media arts organizations (see Table 1a). Emerging media artists received $726,000 for first productions and $127,500 was awarded in travel grants. A total of 20 Aboriginal artists received $349,550 to pursue projects, while production and creative development grants to 120 film, video, new media and audio artists totaled almost $3 million dollars.
- Organizational funding assists a wide variety of media arts organizations with their operating, programming, dissemination, project and equipment purchase needs. In 1999-2000, increased funding to media arts organizations was directed towards media arts festivals, with $500,000 distributed to 26 Canadian media arts festivals. Operational and equipment purchase assistance to 36 film production cooperatives and electronic media arts organizations totaled almost $2 million. Project assistance and dissemination project grants combined provided almost $900,000 in funding to 51 diverse organizations, while annual assistance programs to production and distribution organizations, as well as cinematheques accounted for $1.5 million in funds.
- In terms of Canada Council funding allocations, media arts received the second least amount of funding of all disciplines. The media arts budget of $8.8 million comprised 9% of Council funding for 1999-2000 (see Table 1b).

SOME FACTS ABOUT FILM AND VIDEO IN CANADA

- Data taken from Statistics Canada's Film and Video Distribution and Wholesaling Survey indicates that film and video distributors and videocassette wholesalers made more sales in Canada and abroad in 1998-99 than previous years, surpassing the $2-billion mark in total revenue. This increase in total revenues is quite dramatic, given that exports of Canadian film and video productions to foreign markets surpassed the $100-billion mark for the first time only in 1997-98.<sup>1</sup>
- Total revenues for the film and video market rose to a record $2.1 billion in 1998-99, a 16% increase from 1997-98. Revenues from 1995 onwards indicate a strong upward trend of increased sales and continued growth in overseas exports of Canadian film and video productions: in 1997-98, overall revenues for the film and video industry as a whole totaled $1.8 billion, up 13% from $1.6 billion in 1994-95.
- Slight gains were made in 1998-99 in the battle for increased screenings of Canadian movies on Canadian movie screens. In the theatrical market (commercial movie theatres and drive-ins), Canadian movies' share in total revenue increased to 3% from 2% in 1997-98, while foreign movies accounted for 97% of $282.2 million in distributors' revenue. In 1997-98, foreign movies accounted for 98% of $276.7 million in distributors' revenue.
- Limited screen time for Canadian films compared to American and international releases has resulted this low share of distributors' revenue. This trend is reproduced in the home-video market, with foreign productions accounting for 98% of the $1.02 billion in domestic wholesale sales in 1998-99. This represents only a marginal increase since 1997-98 for Canadian films in the home-video market: that year, 99% of the $812.2 million in domestic wholesale sales was for foreign productions.

AIDE AUX ARTS MÉDIATIQUES, 1999-2000

---

- En 1999-2000, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a accordé aux arts médiatiques du Canada des subventions d'une valeur globale de 8,8 millions de dollars.
- Les subventions sont réparties également entre les artistes et les organismes, 4,1 millions de dollars aux artistes et 4,7 millions de dollars aux organismes (voir Tableau 1a). Le Conseil a attribué aux nouveaux artistes 726 000 $ pour leurs premières oeuvres et des subventions de voyage d'une valeur totale de 127 500 $. En tout, 20 artistes autochtones ont reçu 349 550 $ pour des projets, tandis que 120 artistes du cinéma, de la vidéo, des nouveaux médias et de l'audio ont reçu près de 3 millions de dollars en subventions de production ou création.
- Les subventions aux organismes s'appliquent aux besoins en fonctionnement, programmation, diffusion, projet et achat d'équipement des organismes en arts médiatiques. En 1999-2000, des fonds accrus ont été attribués à ces organismes pour des festivals d'arts médiatiques; le Conseil a accordé 500 000 $ à 26 festivals au Canada. Trente-six coopératives de production cinématographique et organismes d'arts médiatiques électroniques ont reçu en tout 2 millions de dollars en subventions de fonctionnement et d'achat d'équipement. Des subventions de projet et de diffusion d'une valeur totale de près de 900 000 $ ont été accordées à 51 organismes tandis que les subventions annuelles accordées aux organismes de production et de distribution, ainsi qu'aux cinémathèques, ont atteint 1,5 million de dollars.
- Autre que la discipline des inter-arts, ce sont les arts médiatiques qui ont reçu la part la moins importante de l'aide du Conseil des Arts du Canada à toutes les disciplines. Le budget de 8,8 millions de dollars des arts médiatiques représente 9 p. 100 de l'aide du Conseil en 1999-2000 (voir Tableau 1b).

QUELQUES FAITS SUR LES FILMS ET VIDÉOS AU CANADA

- Selon les données de l'Enquête sur la distribution et la vente en gros de films et vidéos de Statistique Canada, en 1998-99, les distributeurs de vidéos et de films, et les grossistes de vidéocassettes ont augmenté leurs ventes au Canada et à l'étranger par rapport aux années passées, dépassant ainsi la barre des 2 milliards de dollars en revenus. Cette augmentation des revenus totaux est plutôt spectaculaire puisque que les exportations de productions vidéos et de films canadiens ont dépassé la barre des 100 milliards de dollars pour la première fois en 1997-1998 seulement.
- Les revenus globaux pour l'industrie du film et de la vidéo ont atteint le montant record de 2,1 milliards de dollars en 1998-99, ce qui représente une hausse de 16 % par rapport à 1997-1998. À partir de 1995, les revenus générés par les vidéos et les film canadiens indiquaient une forte tendance à la hausse des ventes et une croissance continue des exportations outre-mer. En 1997-1998, l'industrie du film et de la vidéo a généré des revenus globaux de 1,8 milliard de dollars, soit une augmentation de 13 % par rapport aux revenus de 1,6 milliard de dollars en 1994-1995.
- En ce qui concerne les efforts entrepris pour augmenter la projection des films canadiens dans les salles de cinéma au Canada, quelques légers gains ont été observés en 1998-1999. De 2 % qu'elle était en 1997-1998, la part du cinéma canadien en matière de revenus de distribution dans le marché du film commercial (cinémas commerciaux et ciné-parcs) est passé à 3 % en 1998-1999, alors que les films étrangers se sont appropriés 97% du marché soit, 282,2 millions de dollars. En 1997-1998, les films étrangers avaient généré 98 % du revenu de distribution, de 276,7 millions de dollars.
- La projection limitée des films canadiens comparativement à celle des films américains et internationaux explique la faible part des revenus de distribution. Cette tendance caractérise également le marché de la vidéocassette grand public, les productions étrangères représentant pour l'année 1998-1999, 98 % du 1,02 milliard de dollars de ventes en gros au pays. Quant à elle, la part des productions canadiennes sur le marché canadien de la vidéocassette grand public n'a que légèrement augmenté puisqu'en 1997-1998, les productions étrangères s'approprièrent 99% des 812,2 millions de dollars de ventes en gros.
