About this catalogue

This catalogue includes some of our new releases and a selection of popular backlist titles. Each publication is produced or sponsored by a department, agency, commission, or a scientific or social research organization.

For the most part, we have included single-issue publications (i.e., monographs). Where we have included publications available by subscription or standing order, please note the following definitions:

Subscription: A set number of issues are sent out to customers over a set period of time (usually a year). Subscriptions are prepaid.

Standing Order: This product generally consists of a Main Volume and amendment service. When purchasing the product, customers receive the Main Volume and related modifications. To receive future modifications, customers must ask to be placed on the mailing list for the amendment service (i.e., revisions, updates, new directives). Customers on the mailing list will then receive amendments automatically and be billed accordingly. Price and billing frequency can vary depending on the product and the frequency of amendments. We recommend that customers sign up for the amendment service in order to keep the Main Volume's information up to date.

Please visit our Web site for a more comprehensive listing of our titles or for more information on the titles included in this catalogue.
