

LABOUR-MANAGEMENT PARTNERSHIPS PROGRAM (LMPP) FUNDING PRIORITIES

The Labour-Management Partnerships Program is intended to promote effective labour-management relations at the workplace and industry level through:

- ▶ joint labour-management projects that address workplace practices or industrial relations issues,
- ▶ alternative approaches to dispute resolution,
- ▶ the development and delivery of joint labour-management training programs on labour relations and work-related issues,
- ▶ conferences and research concerning labour-management co-operation, industrial relations best practices, workplace change and related human resource issues.

All proposals must demonstrate:

- ▶ that the project would make a significant contribution to labour-management relations or workplace practices,
- ▶ that there is a commitment to practical results that will be widely disseminated,
- ▶ 50/50 cost-sharing in cash or in kind to an LMPP maximum contribution of $100,000.

Only pilot or demonstration projects are eligible. Funds are not available for activities which would primarily represent the ongoing operations or business plan of an organization. Workplace projects must be jointly developed and implemented by labour and management. Labour-only or employer-only applications are eligible only if the applicant is prepared, as an integral part of his/her project, to promote dialogue between business and labour.
