Focus promotes a co-operative working relationship with all stakeholders to optimize your investment and ensure regulatory and environmental compliance. Our experienced team of multi-disciplinary professionals has completed small scale to enterprise level environmental assignments. Focus promotes an “airshed approach” where all stakeholders in a region, discuss air quality issues for that region, and decide how to address them. Our team has extensive experience building and managing air monitoring networks. Data collected by Focus can be communicated to stakeholders in Real Time via the Internet.

Our team has extensive knowledge in complimentary disciplines including: Mapping and remote sensing; Geographic Information Systems; Software development; Land Surveying, Civil and Environmental engineering.
