* The term "transition" here refers to the transition from existing Pest Control Products Act (PCPA) to the new PCPA which will likely be implemented early next year. Transitional active ingredients are those active ingredients for which the PACR is published under the existing PCPA and the RRD will be published under the new PCPA, and those active ingredients for which the first phase of re-evaluation is completed under the existing PCPA and the second phase will be completed under the new PCPA.
