Postponing Repayment of Your Student Loan Debt

If you are completing a professional training period that is required by a professional association recognized by the Québec government and are experiencing financial hardship, you may postpone repayment of your student loan debt. This benefit applies only to student loans awarded under the Loans and Bursaries Program or the Loans Program for Part-Time Studies and not to computer loans granted under the Computer Loan Guarantee Program.

Eligibility Conditions and Requirements

On the date of your application, your gross monthly income must not exceed the maximum amount indicated for your family situation (see following table.)

Maximum gross monthly income according to family situation, as of May 1, 2005

Individual without dependent child	Maximum gross monthly income*	$1 220
Individual with dependent child(ren)	Number of children	1	2	3	4
	Maximum gross monthly income*	$1 435	$1 635	$1 835	$2 035
Single parent with dependent child(ren)	Number of children	1	2	3	4
	Maximum gross monthly income*	$1 545	$1 745	$1 945	$2 145

* If you are paid weekly, multiply your weekly pay by 4.33 to get your gross monthly income. If you are paid every two weeks, multiply your pay by 2.16.

 To determine your maximum gross monthly income, add $200 to the amount in the table for each additional child.

Your professional training period must be recognized by the Québec government and required by a professional association (see the list given below).

The professional training period must start at the end of your program of study in accordance with the professional association's regulations.

If your professional training period is noncontinuous, it will be considered to have been completed without interruption as of the official start date.

If the professional training period lasts more than 12 months, you must reapply for this benefit after each 12-month period by submitting a new application.

For more information, call the Service de l'accueil et des renseignements, our reception and inquiries desk, at (418) 643-3750 or 1-877-643-3750 (toll-free in Canada and United States).
