On January 1, 2005, the New Brunswick Government will enact changes to the workplace First Aid Regulation.

These changes were introduced to:

- Standardize training requirements
- Formalize emergency workplace communications
- Formalize emergency transportation procedures

The Workplace Health, Safety and Compensation Commission is hosting free workshops to help companies familiarize themselves with their new responsibilities under the amended regulation.

Find out what your company needs to do to meet the new conditions. Sign up today by calling toll-free at 1 800 222-9775 or visiting www.whscc.nb.ca.
