

Broadcasting Public Notice CRTC 2005-83-1

Ottawa, 19 October 2005

Call for comments on possible regulatory amendments that would expand the competitive access to inside wire – Request for confidentiality

1. In Call for comments on possible regulatory amendments that would expand the competitive access to inside wire, Broadcasting Public Notice CRTC 2005-83, 15 August 2005, the Commission requested comments with respect to the merit of expanding the application of the regulatory requirements pertaining to access to inside wire owned by broadcasting distribution undertakings.
2. In response to that public notice, the Commission received a request from Bell ExpressVu LP¹ and Bell Canada (collectively, Bell) that a portion of their submission be held in confidence. The Commission has decided to grant this request in part. Accordingly, Bell has submitted a revised version of its comments which includes information not previously available as part of the public record. To ensure that other parties have an opportunity to comment on this additional information, the Commission will accept submissions addressing the additional information contained in Bell's revised filing, provided that such submissions are received on or before 2 November 2005.
