Get off to a great

Have you considered what a career in math, science or technology has to offer? Exciting job opportunities.

Excellent earning potential. A stimulating work environment. You can discover the rewards of working in cancer treatment, explore the high-tech world of computers and graphic design, or assist in the development of manufacturing processes that respect the environment. The variety is virtually unlimited and so are the opportunities.

Your ticket to a brighter future is acquiring valuable skills. To help prepare for a career in the fields of math, science or technology, today's young women can receive assistance from the Training for Tomorrow Educational Awards Program.

What is Training for Tomorrow?

Training for Tomorrow is an entry-level educational awards program designed to encourage women to consider careers in math, science, and technology. The program provides $1,000 awards (in two $500 installments) to 50 eligible women who have been accepted to study math, science and/or technology at any of Manitoba's four eligible community colleges.

Who is eligible to receive an educational award?

The Training for Tomorrow Educational Awards Program is open to women who are Canadian citizens or landed immigrants. Candidates must be entering the first year of full-time training in an eligible 2-year diploma program of study at any of Manitoba's four eligible community colleges. (Please see the enclosed Eligible Course List)

How are the educational awards disbursed?

Awards are disbursed based on students' academic achievement and answers to questions on page two of the attached application. Consideration will be given to regional representation among applicants and a reasonable distribution among program areas.

Who grants the Training for Tomorrow Educational Awards?

The Minister responsible for the Status of Women grants the Manitoba Training for Tomorrow Educational Awards, based on recommendations made by an Advisory Review Committee.

How can I apply?

Complete the attached application form and submit it to the Women's Directorate with the following items:

- A copy of your official transcript of marks, that accompanied your application to your college of choice
- Proof of acceptance into an eligible college diploma program of study.

Additional application forms are available at Manitoba college financial awards offices, at the Women's Directorate, at your local high school or Adult Learning Centre.
