INTRODUCTION

"Immigration 1966" has been produced by the Immigration Division of the Department of Manpower and Immigration. This report is planned to cover in nineteen statistical tables those aspects of Immigration which are of greatest interest. The first thirteen tables portray the immigration movement during 1966 while the last six summarize the data collected in the post-war period on the birthplace and origin of immigrants, their country of former residence and citizenship, their intended occupation and destination.

More than 9 million immigrants have come to Canada since Confederation. Including the 1966 total of 194,743, in the past 100 years Canada has admitted 9,139,567 immigrants. The 1966 figure represents a 33 per cent increase over the 1965 total of 146,758 and is the highest number since the post-war peak period of 1957. The increase for 1966 is not attributable to an upsurge from any one particular country or a small group of countries. On the contrary, an increase has been recorded from almost all countries of the world which reflects the global concept of Canada's immigration policies and regulations.

Country of Last Permanent Residence

Immigrants coming from the United Kingdom and Ireland during 1966 numbered 65,065 and represented 33.4 per cent of the total immigration to Canada in 1966. Other large groups came from: Italy, 31,625 representing 16.2 per cent of the total; the United States, 17,514 representing 9 per cent, Germany, 9,263 representing 4.8 per cent, Portugal, 7,930 representing 4 per cent, France, 7,872 representing 4 per cent, and Greece, 7,174 representing 3.7 per cent.

Country of Birth

Of the immigrant arrivals in 1965, approximately 37 per cent were born in Commonwealth countries or in the Republic of Ireland; 21 per cent were born in Italy or Greece; 7.3 per cent in the United States; 8.3 per cent in Germany, France or the Netherlands; 5.5 per cent in Spain or Portugal, and 3.4 per cent in Poland or Yugoslavia.

Occupation and Destination

The total 1966 movement was divided almost equally between labour force entrants and non-workers. 50.9 per cent of the immigrants declared that they would enter the labour force. The other 49.1 per cent were wives, children and other dependents or were retired persons. Of the workers, 26.1 per cent were classed as professional and managerial, 3.2 per cent were in agricultural occupations, 8.8 per cent in service occupations, 34.3 per cent in manufacturing, mechanical and construction trades, 16.7 per cent in clerical, commercial and financial occupations and 7.7 per cent were general labourers. As in previous years, Ontario absorbed by far the highest proportion of arrivals, 55 per cent; Quebec was second with 20 per cent, followed by British Columbia 13 per cent, Prairie Provinces 9.5 per cent and the Atlantic Provinces 2 per cent.

Age, Sex and Marital Status

Male immigrants exceeded females by 5,955. Among men, those aged 25-29 made up the largest group totalling 18,328. For women, the 20-24 age group was the largest and totalled 18,738. In the single category, males exceeded females in all age groups up to 40 years. Females exceeded males in the married category by 1,954, in the widowed category by 3,001 and in the divorced or separated category by 348. Of all persons arriving in 1966 who were 15 years of age or over, 56 per cent were married, 39.5 per cent were single and 4.5 per cent were widowed, divorced or separated.

Mode of Travel

As in recent years the tendency of immigrants to travel by air continued throughout 1966 when 126,155 or 64.8 per cent elected this mode of travel. There has been a steady increase in the proportion of immigrants travelling by air since 1958 when 31.6 per cent of the immigrants were admitted at airports.

Total Arrivals

Total examinations at Canadian ports of entry exceeded 70 million in 1966. In addition to the 194,743 immigrants examined there were 34,571,908 Canadian residents re-entering this country after visits out of Canada and 35,919,773 non-immigrants most of whom were tourists arriving at ocean ports or across the International Boundary for visits of varying lengths in this country. These traffic figures include of course those who cross and re-cross the boundary frequently. Persons refused admission after examination totalled 703.

INTRODUCTION

La publication "Immigration 1966" a été préparée par la Division de l'immigration du ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration. Le présent rapport expose en dix-neuf tableaux statistiques les aspects de l'immigration qui offrent le plus d'intérêt. Les treize premiers tableaux décrivent le mouvement migratoire de 1966, et les six derniers résument les données recueillies pendant l'après-guerre sur l'origine, le dernier pays de résidence, la citoyenneté antérieure, la profession et la destination projetées des immigrants.

Plus de 9 millions d'immigrants sont entrés au Canada depuis la Confédération. Y compris le total de 194,743 en 1966, le Canada a admis 9,139,567 immigrants au cours des cent dernières années. Le total de 1966 représente une augmentation de 33 p. 100 sur celui de 1965, qui était de 146,758, et c'est le plus haut point atteint au cours de l'après-guerre depuis le sommet de 1957. L'augmentation de 1966 n'est pas attribuable à un essor de l'immigration en provenance d'un pays en particulier ou d'un petit groupe de pays. Au contraire, on a enregistré une augmentation de l'immigration en provenance de presque tous les pays du monde, ce qui reflète la conception universelle de la politique et des règlements du Canada en matière d'immigration.

Pays de dernière résidence permanente

Les immigrants venus du Royaume-Uni et de l'Irlande pendant l'année 1966 étaient au nombre de 65,065, ce qui représente 33,4 p. 100 de l'immigration totale au Canada cette année-là. D'autres groupes nombreux provenaient des pays suivants: l'Italie, 31,625, soit 16,2 p. 100 du total; les Etats-Unis, 17,514, soit 9 p. 100; l'Allemagne, 9,263, soit 4,8 p. 100; le Portugal, 7,930, soit 4 p. 100; la France, 7,872, soit 4 p. 100; et la Grèce, 7,174, soit 3,7 p. 100.

Pays de naissance

Des immigrants arrivés en 1965, environ 37 p. 100 étaient originaires des pays du Commonwealth ou de la République d'Irlande, 21 p. 100 de l'Italie ou de la Grèce, 7,3 p. 100 des Etats-Unis, 8,3 p. 100 de l'Allemagne, de la France ou des Pays-Bas, 5,5 p. 100 de l'Espagne ou du Portugal et 3,4 p. 100 de la Pologne ou de la Yougoslavie.

Profession et destination

Le total des immigrants de 1966 était divisé presque également entre les travailleurs et les non-travailleurs: 50,9 p. 100 ont déclaré qu'ils feraient partie de la population active, et les autres, soit 49,1 p. 100, comprenaient les épouses, les enfants et autres personnes à charge, ou des retraités. Parmi les immigrants actifs, 26,1 p. 100 étaient classés dans les catégories intellectuelles et administratives, 3,2 p. 100 dans l'agriculture, 8,8 p. 100 dans les services, 34,3 p. 100 dans l'industrie de la fabrication, le domaine de la mécanique et la construction, 16,7 p. 100 dans les emplois de bureau, les professions du commerce et celles de la finance; enfin, 7,7 p. 100 étaient des manoeuvres. Comme par les années passées, l'Ontario a reçu beaucoup plus d'immigrants que toutes les autres provinces, soit 55 p. 100 du total; le Québec vient au deuxième rang avec 20 p. 100, suivi de la Colombie-Britannique avec 13 p. 100, des provinces des Prairies avec 9,5 p. 100 et des provinces de l'Atlantique avec 2 p. 100.

Âge, sexe et état civil

Le nombre des hommes a dépassé celui des femmes de 5,955. Parmi eux, ceux de 25 à 29 ans constituaient le groupe d'âge le plus important, atteignant le chiffre de 18,328. Chez les femmes, le groupe d'âge de 20 à 24 ans était le plus important et s'élevait à 18,738. Dans la catégorie des célibataires, le nombre des hommes a dépassé celui des femmes dans toutes les tranches d'âge jusqu'à 40 ans, mais dans la catégorie des gens mariés, le nombre des femmes a dépassé de 1,954 celui des hommes. Le nombre des femmes excédait celui des hommes de 3,001 dans la catégorie des veufs ou veuves et de 348 dans la catégorie des personnes divorcées ou séparées. Parmi toutes les personnes arrivées en 1966 et âgées de 15 ans ou plus, 56 p. 100 étaient mariées, 39,5 p. 100 étaient célibataires et 4,5 p. 100 étaient veuves, séparées ou divorcées.

Mode de transport

Comme au cours des dernières années, les immigrants ont surtout voyagé par avion durant toute l'année 1966: 126,155, ou 64,8 p. 100, d'entre eux ont, cette année, choisi ce mode de transport. La proportion des immigrants qui voyagent par avion s'est sans cesse accrue depuis 1958, alors que 31,6 p. 100 des immigrants ont été admis dans les aéroports.

Nombre total d'arrivants

En 1966, le nombre total des examens aux ports d'entrée du Canada a dépassé 70 millions. En plus des 194,743 immigrants, les fonctionnaires à l'immigration ont examiné 34,571,908 résidents canadiens qui rentraient au Canada après des visites à l'extérieur du pays, et 35,919,773 non-immigrants dont la plupart étaient des touristes arrivant à des ports océaniques ou traversant la "frontière internationale" pour faire des visites plus ou moins longues au Canada. Ce trafic-voyageurs comprend, il va sans dire, les personnes qui traversent et retraversent fréquemment la frontière. On a refusé l'admission à 703 personnes après examen.
