INTRODUCTION

"1967 Immigration Statistics" has been produced by the Canada Immigration Division of the Department of Manpower and Immigration. This report is planned to cover in sixteen statistical tables those aspects of immigration which are of greatest interest. Tables 3 to 11 portray the immigration movement during 1967, and the last five tables summarize the data collected since 1946 on the birthplace, citizenship, country of former residence, intended occupation and destination of Canada's post-war immigrants.

During the 100 years since Confederation, Canada has admitted 9,351,777 immigrants. The Centennial Year total of 222,876 represents an increase of 14.4% over the previous year's total, and is the highest number since the post-war peak of 282,164 reached in 1957. It is also the sixth successive year in which an increase has been recorded.

Country of Former Residence

During Canada's Centennial year, immigrants to Canada from Britain and Ireland numbered 64,601, representing 29% of the total. Other large groups came from: Italy 30,055 - 13.4%; the United States 19,038 - 8.6%; Germany 11,779 - 5.3%; Greece 10,650 - 4.6%; France 10,122 - 4.5%; and Portugal 9,500 - 4.2%.

Country of Birth-

Of the 222,876 immigrant arrivals in 1967, approximately 37.4% were born in Commonwealth countries or the Republic of Ireland, 19% were born in Italy or Greece, 7.2% in the United States, 5.4% in Spain or Portugal, 3.7% in Germany and 3.1% in France.

Occupation and Destination

Canada's labour force during 1967 was augmented by 119,539 immigrant workers, who represented 53.6% of the total immigration movement for that year.

Of all the workers who came to Canada in 1967, 32.5% were classed in the manufacturing, mechanical or construction trades, 28.3% in the professional or managerial categories, 16.7% in the clerical, commercial or financial occupations, 9% in the service occupations, 7.3% in the labouring groups and 2.7% were classed as agricultural workers.

Ontario continued to attract the greatest number of arrivals, 116,850, Quebec was second with 45,717, the Prairie Provinces third with 28,071, followed by British Columbia with 27,215, the Atlantic Provinces with 4,859, and Yukon and the Northwest Territories with 164.

Age, Sex and Marital Status

Male immigrants exceeded females by 7,440. Females, however, exceeded males in the married category by 1,790, in the widowed category by 3,419, divorced by 339 and separated by 154. In the single category there were 13,142 more men than women. Among the men, those aged 25-29 made up the largest group totalling 23,059. For women, the 20-24 age group was the largest with 23,744, of which 48.2% were married. Of all persons arriving in 1967 who were 15 years of age or over, 54% were married, and 4.3% were widowed, divorced or separated.

Mode of Travel

The tendency for immigrants to travel to Canada by air continued in 1967, when 159,813 or 71.7% of the total elected this mode of travel. This percentage has shown a steady annual upswing from 31% in 1958. Arrivals by ship were 45,634, and immigrants who came overland numbered 17,429.

Origin of Immigrants

New Immigration Regulations came into effect on October 1, 1967. These Regulations are universally applicable and completely non-discriminatory. Since a prospective immigrant's racial origin has no bearing in determining his admissibility to Canada, all references to this subject have been removed from all immigration documents. There is, therefore, now no way available to the Immigration Division to compile data on the ethnic origin of immigrants.

NOTE:

The "Immigration to Canada" totals in this report includes a number of persons who entered Canada as visitors prior to July 1966 and who were granted permanent admission during 1967. There were 13,036 such persons out of the total number of 222,876 who were granted landed immigrant status during the year.

La publication "1967 immigration statistiques" est une production de la Division de l'immigration du ministère de la Main-d'oeuvre et de l'Immigration. Elle expose en seize tableaux statistiques les aspects les plus intéressants de l'immigration. Les tableaux 3 à 11 décrivent le mouvement migratoire de 1967, et les cinq derniers résument les données recueillies depuis 1946 sur le pays de naissance, la citoyenneté, le pays de dernière résidence, la profession et la destination projetées par les immigrants arrivés au Canada dans l'après-guerre.

Au cours du dernier siècle, soit depuis la Confédération, 9,351,777 immigrants sont entrés au Canada. Pendant l'année du Centenaire, le Canada a accueilli 222,876 immigrants, soit 14.4 p. 100 de plus que l'année précédente. C'est le plus haut point atteint au cours de l'après-guerre depuis le sommet de 282,164 en 1957. C'est aussi la sixième année consécutive où l'on enregistre une augmentation.

Pays de dernière résidence

Parmi les immigrants de l'année du Centenaire, 64,601, soit 29 p. 100 du total, venaient d'Angleterre et d'Irlande. D'autres contingents importants sont venus des pays suivants: l'Italie, 30,055 (13.4 p. 100); les Etats-Unis, 19,038 (8.6 p. 100); l'Allemagne, 11,779 (5.3 p. 100); la Grèce, 10,650 (4.6 p. 100); la France, 10,122 (4.5 p. 100); et le Portugal, 9,500 (4.2 p. 100).

Pays de naissance

Sur les 222,876 immigrants arrivés en 1967, environ 37.4 p. 100 étaient originaires des pays du Commonwealth ou de la République d'Irlande, 19 p. 100 de l'Italie ou de la Grèce, 7.2 p. 100 des Etats-Unis, 5.4 p. 100 de l'Espagne ou du Portugal, 3.7 p. 100 de l'Allemagne et 3.1 p. 100 de la France.

Profession et destination

Au cours de 1967, 119,539 travailleurs immigrants sont venus grossir les rangs de la population active du Canada, soit 53.6 p. 100 du mouvement migratoire total.

De tous les travailleurs venus au Canada en 1967, 32.5 p. 100 avaient des métiers dans la fabrication, la mécanique ou la construction, 28.3 p. 100 exerçaient des emplois intellectuels ou administratifs, 16.7 p. 100 des emplois de bureau, du commerce ou de la finance, 9 p. 100 des emplois dans les services, 7.3 p. 100 étaient des manoeuvres et 2.7 p. 100, des travailleurs agricoles.

L'Ontario a encore une fois reçu beaucoup plus d'immigrants que toutes les autres provinces, soit 116,850; le Québec vient au deuxième rang avec 45,717 immigrants, suivi des provinces des Prairies avec 28,071, de la Colombie-Britannique avec 27,215, des provinces de l'Atlantique avec 4,859, du Yukon et des Territoires du Nord-Ouest avec 164.

Age, sexe et état civil

Le nombre des hommes a dépassé de 7,440 celui des femmes. Toutefois, le nombre des femmes a excédé celui des hommes dans les catégories suivantes: gens mariés, 1,790 de plus; veufs ou veuves, 3,419 de plus; personnes divorcées, 339 de plus; et personnes séparées, 154 de plus. Dans la catégorie des célibataires, le nombre des hommes a dépassé de 13,142 celui des femmes. Chez les hommes, le groupe d'âge de 25 à 29 ans était le plus important et s'élevait à 23,059. Chez les femmes, c'est le groupe d'âge de 20 à 24 ans qui était le plus important, soit 23,744 dont 48.2 p. 100 étaient mariées. Parmi tous les arrivants de 1967 et âgés de 15 ans ou plus, 54 p. 100 étaient mariés et 4.3 p. 100 étaient veufs, divorcés ou séparés.

Mode de transport

Comme par le passé, les immigrants ont surtout voyagé par avion au cours de 1967: 159,813, ou 71.7 p. 100, d'entre eux ont choisi ce mode de transport. La proportion des immigrants qui voyagent par avion s'est sans cesse accrue depuis 1958, alors qu'il y en avait eu 31 p. 100. 45,634 immigrants sont venus par bateau, et 17,429 par voie terrestre.

Origine des immigrants

Le nouveau Règlement sur l'immigration est entré en vigueur le 1^{er} octobre 1967. Ce Règlement s'applique à tous et ne fait aucune discrimination. Puisque l'origine raciale d'un aspirant-immigrant ne sert pas à établir son admissibilité au Canada, toute mention à cet égard a été rayée de tous les documents d'immigration. En conséquence, la Division de l'immigration ne dispose plus d'aucun moyen de compiler des données sur l'origine ethnique des immigrants.

Note:

Le total figurant dans ce rapport à la rubrique "Immigration au Canada" comprend des personnes qui étaient entrées à titre de visiteurs avant juillet 1966 et qui ont obtenu l'admission permanente en 1967. Il y avait 13,036 personnes dans ce cas, parmi les 222,876 personnes qui ont obtenu le statut "d'immigrant reçu" au cours de l'année.
