Liquor sale rules during elections:

Territorial Election:

A Territorial election has been called for Tuesday, October 10, 2006.

The Elections Act prohibits the sale of liquor in licensed premises during the hours that the polls are open. Accordingly, all licensees are prohibited from selling or otherwise supplying alcohol between 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. that day.

With the exception of cocktail lounges, premises may remain open for food and non-alcoholic beverage services. However, for those cocktail lounges who have received specific Board approval to use their premises for breakfast prior to liquor service hours, they may continue to serve breakfast during the hours stated on the licence.

Liquor sales may resume after the polls close at 8:00 p.m. and continue until the normal closing time.

For more information/clarification in respect to election closures, please refer to the letter to all licensees dated September 15, 2006.

The YLC Main Office will be open until 4:00 p.m. on Election Day. Licensees may place liquor orders at the Central Warehouse on Tuesday; however, no orders can be picked up. All liquor stores will be closed.

Municipal Election:

Subsequent to the territorial election, civic elections will take place on October 19, 2006. During municipal elections, licensed premises may remain open for liquor sales during the hours specified on the liquor licence. All YLC offices and stores will also be open for full service.

Are you eligible to renew?

To be eligible for licence renewal, a premise must be 'operational' for at least three months of the licence year (April 1 through March 31 of the following year). Please contact our Licensing & Development staff at 667-5245 if you are concerned that this requirement may affect your eligibility.

Drink Recipes

Black Widow

1oz. Citrus flavored Vodka
1oz. Sambuca

Pour both over ice & shake. Strain into martini glass and add a lemon twist for garnish.

Sweet Dreams

1 glass Hot Chocolate
1 handful of mini marshmallows
1 swirl of whipped cream
1 sprinkle of cinnamon or nutmeg
& chocolate shavings.

Make the hot chocolate and garnish with marshmallows, cover with whipped cream and top off with spices and chocolate shavings. The ultimate sweet dream.

How to make your bar a safer place

Every now and then, the media will carry a story regarding a violent incident at a bar or event where liquor is available. These incidents reinforce how vital well-trained, conscientious staff and strict house policies are to the management of a successful bar or licensed event.

It is vitally important that you and your staff know how to recognize risk factors that exist and how to minimize those risks by making changes to your bar.

Bar fights are preventable and problems should be dealt with early on before they have a chance to escalate. Verbal arguments or obnoxious behavior usually precede physical fighting. Your overall goal should be to maintain the safety of both customers and staff.

There are things you can do to avoid problems and the potential legal liability that they create. Here are a few suggestions:

- Have enough staff on duty to ensure the safety of your customers;
- Make sure staff are trained to deal with difficult situations;
- Have clear policies on denying entry to customers who are intoxicated or known to be aggressive;
- Keep a report of any fights that occur - including where, what happened and who was involved; and;
- Have a house policy for customers that make it clear that aggression and harassment are not acceptable in your bar.
