Casual Correctional & Youth Officers

Department of Justice

Open to Nunavut Land Claims Beneficiaries
Residents of Iqaluit only

Are you a person who likes to work with people? Who likes helping others, who has traditional Inuit values and beliefs and is supportive of healing? If you're a Nunavut Land Claims Beneficiary looking for casual employment in the area of corrections this is a great opportunity to gain employment and valuable work experience.

Casual Youth Officers are needed at the Isumaqsunngittukkuvik Young Offenders facility. As a Youth Officer you will assist in providing safe and secure custody of young offenders. You will also assist with facility programming that prepares residents for returning to their home communities.

Casual Correctional Officers are needed at the Baffin Correctional Centre. As a Correctional Officer, you will be working as a valuable member of a team, providing safe and secure custody and assist in the delivery of programs to inmates to help prepare them for a return to their home communities.

Positions at both facilities require the ability to work shift work. Training will be provided on specific policies and procedures for each centre.

We encourage beneficiaries who are enrolled under the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement to apply. The ability to speak Inuktitut and/or Inuinnaqtun would be a definite asset.

Individuals wishing to be considered for casual employment should register with the Department of Human Resources by providing their resume to the Casual Employment Consultant at the Human Resources Office Trigram building 903, 1st floor. Applicants will be interviewed and placed on an Eligibility List.
