

PROVINCIAL PUBLIC SERVICE WEEK

October 9 – 13, 2006

Every day, I see first hand the dedication of our public servants to the people of Nova Scotia.

From one end of this province to the other, nearly 10,000 civil servants, corrections and highway workers deliver high quality services and programs to Nova Scotia's families, businesses, and communities.

They reflect Nova Scotia's best attributes and Provincial Public Service Week is an opportunity for us to recognize their resourcefulness, innovation, and commitment.

I feel privileged to know and work with many of these people whose professionalism and skill are second-to-none.
