

Good Things

Happening in Nova Scotia

Did you know . . .

Nova Scotia is helping business to grow.

Service Nova Scotia and Municipal Relations launches Service to Business at two Access Nova Scotia centres. Specialized staff in Kentville and Sydney will offer information to help people starting, operating or growing their businesses, says Minister Jamie Muir. In addition, a website and toll-free number will help guide business clients to the information they need. More good things happening in Nova Scotia.
