

Canada Lands' CEO Wins Big

Toronto, November 22, 2004 – Canada Lands Company is proud to announce that its President and CEO, Kathy Milsom was awarded the Engineering Medal – Management Category, from Professional Engineers Ontario. The honour was awarded at the Professional Engineers Ontario Awards in Toronto on Saturday, November 20, 2004.

“I am very happy to see this award given to the President and CEO of Canada Lands Company, one of the Crown corporations in my portfolio,” said the Honourable John Godfrey, Minister of State (Infrastructure & Communities). “It is a testament to the great work being done by Canada Lands Company and a prime example of how this Crown corporation contributes to the Government of Canada’s priority of developing sustainable communities right across the country.”

“It is an honour to receive this award from my engineering peers,” said Kathy Milsom, President and CEO, Canada Lands Company. “Canada Lands has an exceptional team across the country and at the CN Tower, and I see this award as recognition of what we have achieved together.”

Canada Lands is a federal Crown corporation mandated to optimize the financial and community value obtained from surplus properties no longer required by the Government of Canada. The company is self-financing, pays taxes at all levels of government, and implements innovative property solutions to enhance the quality of life in communities where it operates. Since its inception, the company has distributed hundreds of millions of dollars to the government as dividends, cash acquisitions and payments for properties.
