

FIRST AID TRAINING

St John Ambulance First Aid Training is offered at many of our local cadet units (Corps and Squadrons) as an extra-curricular activity. Cadets can also practice their first aid skills by becoming members of their corps/squadron first aid teams and participating in tri-elemental cadet First Aid Competitions.

There are a number of CIC officers throughout the region who are qualified St John Ambulance First Aid Instructors. They are available to teach courses at local corps and squadrons as required. The training is funded by RCSU(P) and cadets who successfully complete the courses are authorised to wear the appropriate badge on their uniform.

First Aid training is also officered as part of the summer training courses at Sea, Army and Air Cadet Summer Training Centres in BC and across Canada
