

Marti Maraden

Artistic Director, English Theatre

Marti Maraden is one of Canada's foremost stage directors. She was appointed Artistic Director of the National Arts Centre English Theatre in September 1997.

Ms Maraden has directed for major theatres across the country, including the Stratford Festival, the Shaw Festival, the Canadian Stage Company, the Manitoba Theatre Centre, and the Grand Theatre (London). As an actor, she has appeared in productions at the NAC, at the Stratford Festival, and at the Shaw Festival, as well as at major theatres in Canada and the United States. Ms Maraden has been an Associate Director of the Stratford Festival Theatre, Director of the Stratford Festival Young Company, and President of the Board of Equity Showcase Theatre. She has taught at several Canadian and American universities.
