Natural Gas Rebate Program

Guide for 2006 - 2007 Agriculture Consumers

- Agriculture Irrigators
- Commercial Greenhouses
- Forage Dehydrators
- Grain Dryers

April 1, 2006 - March 31, 2007
Rebate Year

For the 2006-2007 Rebate Year

- Agriculture irrigators, commercial greenhouses, forage dehydrators and grain dryers who use natural gas, propane, heating oil and kerosene are eligible to apply for a rebate and can choose a maximum of six months in each rebate year.
- Applications can be made at any time before the June 30, 2007 deadline.
- Agriculture natural gas consumers who would prefer rebates for the October to March winter heating period may be able to receive their rebate on their natural gas bill. Contact the Program Office for more information.
- All Agriculture rebates will be paid by government cheque. Rebate cheques will be held for all agriculture consumers until the rebate value reaches $25.
- A separate application is required for each gas meter or fuel tank and for each rebate year.

Use the table on the right to determine which six months are your best rebate months. Rebate rates will be available each month at:
www.energy.gov.ab.ca or by calling the program office.
