

Web-4-All is now available for Windows XP

We are pleased to announce that Web-4-All for Windows XP is now available for download free of charge in self-installing executable form. The steps for downloading and installing Web-4-All for Windows XP can be found at:

<http://web4all.atrc.utoronto.ca/html/english/download/binary.html>

Web-4-All for Windows XP was created by the Adaptive Technology Resource Centre (ATRC) at the University of Toronto under a contract from Industry Canada.

Web-4-All has also been released as Open Source code downloadable free of charge from the ATRC website - <http://web4all.atrc.utoronto.ca/>

For more information about the release, please see the recent announcements by Industry Canada and the ATRC:

<http://web4all.atrc.utoronto.ca/html/english/download/index.html>