Looking to Promote Your Business Internationally?

There are several programs available to help Canadian exporters promote business internationally. These programs can help to increase your company's exposure to international opportunities.

Canadian Company Capabilities

www.strategis.ic.gc.ca/cdncc

Canadian Company Capabilities is an online company database provided by Industry Canada. This database profiles approximately 40,000 Canadian companies. You can input your company's information into this database in the "Register" section.

The Virtual Trade Commissioner (VTC)

www.infoexport.gc.ca

This is your personal gateway to International Trade Canada. Over 30,000 qualified Canadian exporters of goods and services take advantage of this internal government database (formerly known as WIN). The VTC provides access to market information, business opportunities and much more. To be eligible for registration in the VTC database a company must a) produce Canadian products or provide a Canadian service that will provide an economic benefit to Canada or b) have exported or researched target selected markets abroad.

www.sourcecan.com

SourceCAN is an entry point for businesses of any size to the globalized electronic commerce marketplace. It has thousands of business opportunities, virtual trade shows, e-catalogues and advanced web-based tools that support supply chain management, procurement and logistics.

Canadian Commercial Corporation (CCC)

www.ccc.ca

The Corporation is involved in facilitating and structuring export sales on behalf of Canadian companies. CCC does not provide financing directly to the firms using its services; rather, it provides services, which, in some instances, give leverage to exporters to get financing from commercial sources.
