Fall Programming Guide/Programmation d'automne 2006

An invitation From the Prince Edward Island Provincial Library Service

Interested in learning more? The public library is the place to go. In addition to our books, magazines and DVDs, our libraries offer programs that will help you develop new skills and abilities. Find out about these opportunities through this guide. We are developing additional programs throughout the year as well, so check with your local library for new sessions.

Please let the staff at your public library know if there are programs that you would like to see offered, or if there are programs that you would like to volunteer to deliver.

Hope to see you soon!

Une invitation du Service des bibliothèques publiques de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard

Vous voulez apprendre davantage? La bibliothèque publique est l'endroit idéal pour ce faire. En plus des livres, des revues et des DVD, nos bibliothèques offrent des programmes qui vous aideront à développer de nouvelles compétences et habiletés. Découvrez ces occasions par l'entremise de ce guide. Nous élaborons toujours de nouveaux programmes au cours de l'année; consultez votre bibliothèque locale pour connaître les nouveautés.

Veuillez faire part au personnel de votre bibliothèque de vos propositions d'activités et même de celles que vous aimeriez offrir de façon bénévole.

Au plaisir de vous voir!

Allan J. Groen
Provincial Librarian/Bibliothécaire provincial

Did You Know?

Using the Limit by and Sort by options in AbbyCat

Did you know that when you do a search in AbbyCat, the online catalogue of the PEI Provincial Library Service, you can limit the results of your search to titles located in specific libraries, to titles in English or in French, or to various formats such as DVDs, videocassettes and Large Print? This "Limit by" box appears on the title listing page of your search results, just below the "Sort by" box which allows you to sort by the newest items first and also by Author and Title. You can search AbbyCat by visiting www.library.pe.ca/abbycat/

Libraries and Communities

Did you know that libraries on Prince Edward Island are cost-shared partnerships with the local community? The Provincial Library, Department of Community and Cultural Affairs, provides staffing and books and other materials, while the local community provides the building. Since 2001 more than half of the libraries in Prince Edward Island have either moved to new and better locations, or undertaken substantial renovation and upgrades to the existing facilities. Why not take a Fall Driving Tour and "Discover Libraries@your Fingertips". There are a wealth of treasures in each and every one of our 26 library locations across the Province.

Canada Library Month

This year, Provincial Libraries across the country together with the Canadian Library Association have declared the month of October as Canada Library Month. That means libraries everywhere will be offering special activities at different times throughout the month to show off our services and programs. This year's theme is "Libraries: the World@Your Fingertips" Library staff across the province extend a special invitation to everyone to join us in celebrating one of the friendliest services offered. Watch for further details.

Le saviez-vous?

Utiliser les options de limite et de tri du système AbbyCat

Saviez-vous que lorsque vous faites une recherche dans AbbyCat, le catalogue en ligne du Service des bibliothèques publiques de l'Î.-P.-É., vous pouvez limiter les résultats de votre recherche à des titres dans des bibliothèques précises, à des titres en anglais ou en français, ou à divers formats tels que DVD, vidéocassettes et gros caractères? La boîte limiter par apparaît sur la page des titres de vos résultats de recherche, immédiatement en-dessous de la boîte Trier par, ce qui vous permet de trier dans les nouveaux articles le premier ainsi que par auteur et titre. Vous pouvez faire une recherche dans AbbyCat en visitant le site www.library.pe.ca/abbycat/"MACROBUTTONHtmlResAnchor

Bibliothèques et communautés

Saviez-vous que les bibliothèques de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard sont financées par la province ainsi que par la communauté? Le Services des bibliothèques publiques du ministère des Affaires communautaires et culturelles fournit le personnel, les livres et autre matériel alors que la communauté fournit le local.

Depuis 2001, plus de la moitié des bibliothèques de l'Île-du-Prince-Édouard ont soit déménagé dans de nouveaux ou meilleurs locaux ou ont été rénovées ou améliorées considérablement. Pourquoi ne pas consulter le programme d'automne pour « Découvrir les bibliothèques au bout des doigts » ? Chacune de nos 26 bibliothèques à l'Île contient une mine de trésors.

Mois des bibliothèques du Canada

Cette année, les bibliothèques provinciales du pays, en collaboration avec la Canadian Library Association a déclaré le mois d'octobre le Mois des bibliothèques du Canada, ce qui signifie que les bibliothèques de partout offriront des activités spéciales à divers moments pendant le mois afin de mettre en valeur leurs services et programmes. Le thème cette année est : Les bibliothèques : le monde au bout des doigts. Le personnel des bibliothèques de partout à l'Île lance une invitation à tous aux célébrations du service le plus accueillant qui soit. Plus de détails vous seront communiqués prochainement.

Programming Policy

The Provincial Library Service offers a wide range of public programs at all branch libraries as part of its service to the community. Library programs are intended to respond to community interests. Programs provide an opportunity to highlight library collections and assist the public discover resources relevant to their needs and interests. Library programming may also promote literacy and the benefits of reading. Library programming is an important outreach tool attracting regular and new users to the library. Successful programs promote community awareness of, support for and increased use of libraries .

Programs are open to the public but when necessary numbers may be restricted and registration required.

On occasion, registration fees will be charged to cover program costs.

The public are encouraged to suggest topics for future programming. Program suggestion forms are available at all branch libraries.

Provincial Library
Service

Politique de la programmation

En tant que service à la communauté, le service des bibliothèques publiques offre une grande variété de programmes publics dans toutes les succursales de bibliothèque. Les programmes de bibliothèque sont destinés à répondre aux champs d'intérêt de la communauté. Les programmes donnent l'occasion de mettre en évidence les collections de la bibliothèque et d'aider le public à découvrir des ressources qui correspondent à leurs besoins et leurs champs d'intérêt. La programmation de bibliothèque peut également servir à promouvoir l'alphabetisation et les bienfaits de la lecture. Elle est un outil d'approche important pour attirer de nouveaux et d'anciens utilisateurs à la bibliothèque. Les programmes réussis aident à faire connaître la bibliothèque dans la communauté, aident au soutien de la bibliothèque et aident à augmenter la fréquentation aux bibliothèques.

Habituellement, les programmes sont ouverts au public, mais au besoin, on peut restreindre le nombre de personnes et demander aux usagers de s'inscrire.

À l'occasion, il peut y avoir un droit d'entrée pour couvrir les coûts du programme.

On encourage le public à suggérer des sujets pour la programmation future. Des formulaires de suggestion sont offerts dans toutes les succursales des bibliothèques.
