

FISHER'S ELECTION TO HAVE TAX DEDUCTED AT SOURCE

Who can use this form?

If you are a self-employed fisher, you can ask to have income tax deducted at source. To do this, complete this form with one of the following people who is your designated employer:

- the buyer of your catch;
- the buyer's agent; or
- any other person paying you for your catch.

Your designated employer will withhold, as tax deductions, 20% of any amounts paid to you from the date of the election to the end of the calendar year.

Can you make this election with more than one designated employer?

Yes. However, if you want more than one designated employer to deduct tax at source, you have to file a separate form with each one.

Your social insurance number (SIN)

Under the Income Tax Act, you have to give your SIN, on request, to any person who prepares an information slip for you. If you do not have a SIN, you should contact the local Human Resources and Skills Development Canada office.

What should you do with the completed form?

Give the completed form to your designated employer.

What happens after you file this form?

After you file this form, the designated employer has to withhold, remit, and report tax deductions to us.
