Canada Child Tax Benefit (CCTB)

For information about the CCTB or to get pamphlet T4114, Your Canada Child Tax Benefit, visit our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/benefits. You can also get the pamphlet by calling 1-800-959-2221, or get information by calling 1-800-387-1193.

Are you now married or living common law?

We will recalculate your benefit based on the number of children you have and their ages, your province or territory of residence, and your family net income.

If you or your new spouse or common-law partner have children who are residing with you, we will move all the children to the female parent's account. If you are married or living common law with a person of the same sex, one of you will receive the CCTB for all the children.

To continue receiving the CCTB, you and your spouse or common-law partner have to file an income tax return every year, even if you have no income to report.

Are you now separated, widowed, or divorced?

We will recalculate your benefit based on the number of children you have and their ages, your province or territory of residence, and your net income.

Definitions

Married

You are married and have a spouse when you are legally married.

Separated

You are separated when you start living separate and apart from your spouse or common-law partner because of a breakdown in the relationship of at least 90 days, and you have not reconciled.

Note: Separated status begins on the first day of the period (at least 90 days) in which you lived apart. However, do not submit this form until the 90 days of living apart have passed.

Goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) credit

For information about the GST/HST credit or to get pamphlet RC4210, GST/HST Credit, visit our Web site at www.cra.gc.ca/benefits. You can also get the pamphlet by calling 1-800-959-2221, or get information by calling 1-800-959-1953.

Are you now married or living common law?

You or your spouse or common-law partner will now get the credit for both of you. We will recalculate the next GST/HST credit payment based on your family net income.

Are you now separated, widowed, or divorced?

If you did not apply for the GST/HST credit on your last income tax return, you can apply now by including a letter with this form.

We will recalculate your next GST/HST credit payment based only on your net income.

Living common law

You have a common-law partner and are living common law if you are living in a conjugal relationship with a person who is not your spouse, and any of the following applies.

He or she:

- 1) has been living with you in a conjugal relationship for at least 12 continuous months;
- 2) is the parent of your child by birth or adoption; or
- has custody and control of your child (or had custody and control immediately before your child turned 19 years of age) and your child is wholly dependent on that person for support.

In addition, an individual immediately becomes your common-law partner if you previously lived together in a conjugal relationship for at least 12 continuous months and you have resumed living together in such a relationship. Under proposed changes, this condition will no longer exist. The effect of this proposed change is that a person (other than a person described in 2) or 3) above) will be your common-law partner only after your current relationship with that person has lasted at least 12 continuous months. This proposed change will apply to 2001 and later years.

Reference to "12 continuous months" in this definition includes any period that you were separated for less than 90 days because of a breakdown in the relationship.
