Privacy Act

Determine which federal government institution is most likely to hold personal information about you. Decide whether you wish to submit an informal request for the information or a formal request under the Privacy Act. If you wish to make an informal request, contact the appropriate institution. The address can likely be found in Info Source publications which are available across Canada, generally in major public and academic libraries, constituency offices of federal Members of Parliament and most federal government public enquiry and service offices.

To apply for personal information about you under the Privacy Act, complete this form. Describe the information being sought and provide any relevant details necessary to help the institution find it. If you require assistance, refer to Info Source (Sources of Federal Government Information) for a description of personal information banks held by the institution or contact its Privacy Coordinator.

Step 3 Forward the personal information request form to the Privacy

Coordinator of the institution holding the information. The address is listed in the "Introduction" to Info Source.

When you receive an answer to your request, review the information to determine whether you wish to make a further request under the Act. You also have the right to complain to the Privacy Commissioner should you believe that you have been denied any of your rights under the Act.
