PREPARED BY THE

CANADIAN INTERGOVERNMENTAL CONFERENCE SECRETARIAT

Our front cover symbolizes intergovernmental conference activity in Canada. Portrayed are fourteen official Coats of Arms beginning with that of Canada at the top, then, from left to right, those of the provinces and territories in order of entry into Confederation. They are placed around the CICS logo depicting the governments sitting around a conference table.

FOREWORD

In March 1987 the Canadian Intergovernmental Conference Secretariat (CICS) published a slim volume entitled Premiers' Conferences, 1887 - 1986. It was essentially a list of conferences giving the date, location, and host government for each. The present publication not only brings the list up to date, but substantially expands the information given to include (where available) the agenda, names of Premiers attending, the number attending for each delegation, and a list of the communiqués or significant outcomes of each conference. In this it follows closely the format of our 1986 publication Federal-Provincial First Ministers' Conferences, 1906 - 1985.

Included in this reference volume are the formal conferences of Premiers that are known to have taken place since 1867. Not included are meetings of Premiers convened on a regional basis, and informal private meetings.

The Annual Premiers' Conference (APC) began in 1960 and has continued uninterrupted since that time, with the current sequence of rotation for host governments beginning in 1967. That pattern has become well established, with the Premier of the host province not only chairing the sessions of the conference, but acting as a spokesperson for the provinces and territories on matters of mutual concern during the year following the conference. (The sequence of host provinces is listed in the Appendix.)

The dates given for each of the Annual Premiers' Conferences are those on which formal business sessions took place. They do not include private sessions or days on which other conference related activities have occurred, and do not, therefore, necessarily correspond to the dates in the official programme of the meeting. Two days has been the standard duration with two exceptions. In 1992, the Charlottetown meeting, originally planned as an APC, was pre-empted by a First Ministers' Meeting on the Constitution chaired by the Prime Minister of Canada. There was however a very brief meeting of Premiers chaired by the Premier of Prince Edward Island. In 1996, the first session was held aboard a special train traveling from Edmonton to Jasper on August 20th. Subsequent sessions were held in Jasper on the 21st and 22nd.

The information in this publication is based on documents in the archives of CICS. Since CICS only came into existence in 1973 and only began to serve Premiers' conferences after that time, the information is much more detailed for later conferences than for those prior to 1973. More detailed information on earlier conferences and analytical commentary on the conferences is beyond the scope of this volume. It is our hope that the information provided here may serve to prompt others to produce a definitive commentary on this most interesting institution of our Canadian federation.

CICS believes this information to be authoritative but accepts responsibility for any error or omission.

NOTES

- The Conference session was closed.
- The meeting had originally been planned as an Annual Premiers' Conference on August 27th and 28th. Shortly before those dates, it was agreed by all the parties that the time should be given over to a Federal-Provincial First Ministers' Meeting on the Constitution. That meeting resulted in the Charlottetown Accord on the Constitution.
- At the close of the First Ministers' Meeting on the Constitution, Premier Ghiz of Prince Edward Island convened a brief meeting of the 33rd Annual Premiers' Conference. All Provincial Premiers and the Government Leaders of the two Territories were present. The Leaders of two Aboriginal Groups (the Assembly of First Nations and the Inuit Tapirisat of Canada) attended as guests. There was discussion of possible agenda items for a Premiers' meeting proposed for later in the fall. (That proposed meeting was not convened.) The meeting was then adjourned in order for the participants to attend the press conference on the Constitutional Agreement.
- The usual sequence of host governments was changed for this Conference. In June of 1991, Nova Scotia, whose turn it was in 1992, agreed to switch with Prince Edward Island. Nova Scotia acted as host the following year.
- For the first time since the 1989 Annual Premiers' Conference in Québec City, the province of Quebec was represented at a Premiers' Conference.

APPENDIX

The 10 year hosting sequence for Annual Premiers' Conferences:

- 00 MANITOBA
- 01 BRITISH COLUMBIA
- 02 NOVA SCOTIA
- 03 PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
- 04 ONTARIO
- 05 NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR
- 06 ALBERTA
- 07 NEW BRUNSWICK
- 08 SASKATCHEWAN
- 09 QUEBEC

This list has no formal status. It simply reflects the pattern that Premiers have followed for well over three decades. The only variations were made in express recognition of the established sequence. In 1983, because it had hosted the New England Governors and Eastern Canadian Premiers' Conference two months earlier, Prince Edward Island exchanged its turn with Ontario. In 1992, Nova Scotia agreed to exchange its hosting year with Prince Edward Island.
