

The Women's Health Contribution Program:

ADVANCING the HEALTH of WOMEN

The Women's Health Contribution Program

supports policy research and education on women's health issues.

Managed by the Women's

Health Bureau, Health

Canada, the Program is a partnership between community and academic researchers.

Women's health is influenced by sex (biological factors), as well as gender (the impact of social and cultural roles, and environmental and economic conditions).

Health research and education that incorporates sex and gender differences makes good science and good sense. Understanding the differences between women's and men's health, and among diverse populations of women in Canada, means better health for everyone.

The Women's Health Contribution Program

New Questions ~ New Knowledge

Quality Research:

- Qualitative and quantitative research on and by diverse populations of women
- Innovative research that takes into account social and economic factors affecting women's health

Working for Change:

- Policy-focused research initiatives aimed at regional, provincial and federal governments and health service providers
- Citizen engagement in health research and policy development

Information and Education:

- University and community partnerships for advancing women's health
- Communication of health research and policy initiatives
- A National Clearinghouse of women's health resources

Organizations supported by the Women's Health Contribution Program include:

- Canadian Women's Health Network www.cwhn.ca
- Centres of Excellence for Women's Health www.cewh-cesf.ca
- British Columbia Centre of Excellence for Women's Health
- Prairie Women's Health Centre of Excellence
- National Network on Environments and Women's Health
- Atlantic Centre of Excellence for Women's Health

Other Women's Health Initiatives: www.cewh-cesf.ca

- National Coordinating Group on Health Care Reform and Women
- Working Group on Women and Health Protection
- Aboriginal Women's Health Synthesis Project — and more!

The Women's Health Contribution Program

Bringing Community and Research Partners Together to Improve Women's Health

Please send me, free of charge: (indicate number of copies)

- ___ copies of the Centres of Excellence for Women's Health Research Bulletin.
- ___ copies of the Canadian Women's Health Network publication, Network.
- ___ copies of the Women's Health Contribution Program CD-Rom, containing more than 50 original research and synthesis papers on women's health in Canada.
- ___ copies of this poster.

Name: _____

Organization (optional): _____

Address: _____

Email Address: _____

Send to:
Canadian Women's Health Network, Suite 203
419 Graham Avenue, Winnipeg, MB R3C 0M3

For more details, visit www.cwhn.ca or call toll-free: 1-888-818-9172.

Supported by the Women's Health Bureau, Health Canada

The Women's Health Contribution Program

Bringing Community and Research Partners Together to Improve Women's Health

The Women's Health Bureau

www.hc-sc.gc.ca/english/for_you/women.html

