

Agreement on Social Security between Canada and Greece

Qualifying for Canadian and Greek benefits

The Agreement

The Agreement on Social Security between Canada and Greece came into force on May 1, 1983.

The Agreement may help you qualify for Canadian and Greek old age, disability or survivor benefits.

Social security legislation and agreements are complex. This sheet contains only general information and may not describe all the provisions that apply to your situation.

Qualifying for a Canadian benefit

The Canadian pension programs included in the Agreement are the Canada Pension Plan and the Old Age Security program.

Under the Canada Pension Plan, you can receive a benefit when you retire or if you become disabled. The Plan may also pay benefits to your survivors after you die.

To qualify for a benefit, you normally must have contributed to the Plan, which came into force on January 1, 1966, for a minimum period.

If you do not qualify for a Canada Pension Plan benefit, Canada will consider periods credited under the pension program of Greece as periods of contribution to the Canada Pension Plan.

The Old Age Security program covers most persons who live or have lived in Canada. The Old Age Security pension is payable at the age of 65 to persons who meet certain residence conditions. To qualify for this pension in Canada, you normally must have lived in this country for at least 10 years after the age of 18. You normally need 20 years of residence in Canada after the same age to receive an Old Age Security pension outside Canada.

What happens if you do not qualify for a Canadian Old Age Security pension because you have not lived in Canada for the minimum number of years? Under the Agreement, Canada will consider periods credited under the pension program of Greece and periods of residence in Greece after the age of 18 as periods of residence in Canada.

Qualifying for a benefit from Greece

The pension program of Greece consists of the General Social Security Scheme (IKA), the special scheme for agricultural workers (OGA) and the special scheme for professionals and the self-employed (TEBE).

To qualify for a benefit under the pension program of Greece, you normally must have contributed to the program for a minimum number of days. The entitlement conditions vary according to your age, length of time of insurance, and whether you are a man or a woman.

Qualifying for Canadian and Greek benefits

For example, to qualify for a Greek old age pension at the age of 65 (60 for women), you must have 4,500 days (15 years) of insurance.

If you have not contributed to the program for the minimum period, you may not qualify for a Greek benefit. However, to determine eligibility for a Greek benefit under the Agreement, Greece will consider periods of contribution to the Canada Pension Plan and periods of residence in Canada after the age of 18 as periods credited under the pension program of Greece.

Payment of your benefits

You may qualify for a benefit from Canada or Greece, or both. Under the Agreement, each country will pay a benefit based solely on your periods of contribution or periods of residence under its pension program.
