he Canadian Heritage family, which ■ includes the Department of Canadian Heritage, the Canada Council for the Arts, the CBC and other major national cultural institutions, plays a key role in the cultural and civic life of Canadians.

We work together to promote culture, arts, heritage, official languages, citizenship and participation, multiculturalism, Aboriginal, youth, and sport initiatives. Canadian Heritage fosters creativity, innovation, linguistic duality and cultural diversity with a view to connecting Canadians to each other and the world.

Highlights

Lights, camera, learn!

For almost 10 years, Freeze Frame has enabled Manitoba youth and their families to experience film and video that reflects the diversity and culture of our great country. Through activities such as hands-on workshops and post-screening discussions, Freeze Frame transforms its viewers into active filmgoers. Bravo! Canadian Heritage helps make this learning experience possible.

Equality For All

In October 2004, the African Canadian Disability Community Association brought together people with disabilities from ethnocultural communities to discuss the issues and challenges they encounter. Canadian Heritage was proud to support this event as an important stepping stone towards equality for all people with disabilities.

Home Sweet Home

In November 2004, arts and culture in south-east Manitoba got a boost when Gretna became home to a performance and recording arts venue—now considered one of the best small halls in Western Canada. Known for its excellence in music and drama, the Gretna community raised the funds needed to build this state-of-the-art facility. Through Cultural Spaces Canada, Canadian Heritage was pleased to work alongside to equip the venue with specialized sound, lighting and communication equipment.

En français s'il-vous-plait! With support from Canadian Heritage, two centres de la petite enfance opened their doors in Manitoba communities in 2004. These centres provide quality French services and programs to parents and are a place for preschool francophone children to play and learn together. Supporting the development of children is key in the continued growth of the francophone community.

Celebrating Culture

The 2004 Winnipeg Aboriginal Film and Video Festival is a unique opportunity to enjoy the work of Aboriginal filmmakers and videographers. This event is both a celebration of Aboriginal customs and culture and an opportunity for local youth to learn about career possibilities in media arts. Canadian Heritage is pleased to promote such an enriching event!
