A Guide to Procedures in Family Court

Revised July 2004

This guide does not provide legal advice. It is recommended that all parties in the Family Court seek legal advice where possible.

Part 3: Answers

If an Application is brought against you, you are the "respondent" in the case. The other party is called the "applicant." The following discussion will assist you in responding to an Application.

To start a case, the applicant will serve you with several documents. These documents include:

- The applicant's completed Application
 Form 8
- A copy of the Table of Contents from the Continuing Record, showing the documents served on you.

If the applicant is requesting support or makes a claim in relation to property, you will also be served with:

 The applicant's completed Financial Statement – Form 13 or Form 13.1 or Net Family Property Statement – Form 13B, as applicable.

Step 1: Read the documents you receive from the applicant.

The first page of the Application has information that applies to you, the respondent.

If you do not agree with any of the applicant's claims, you must serve and file an Answer – Form 10 within 30 days of having been served with the Application, or 60 days if you were served outside Canada or the United States.

Step 2: Pick up the forms you need.

If the forms that you need were not included in the information provided by the applicant, you can pick them up at the court office.

If you are responding to an Application you need:

- An Answer Form 10
- An Affidavit of Service Form 6B

If you are making or responding to a claim for support, but you are not making or responding to a claim for property or exclusive possession of the matrimonial home and its contents, you need:

 A Financial Statement (Support Claims) – Form 13

If you are making or responding to a claim for property or exclusive possession of the matrimonial home and its contents, whether or not you are also making or responding to a claim for support, you need:

 A Financial Statement (Property and Support Claims) – Form 13.1

Whether or not you serve an Answer, if support or property or exclusive possession of the matrimonial home and its contents has been claimed on the Application, you are required to serve and file a Financial Statement.

In either of these cases, you may also need:

- A Direction to Canada Customs and Revenue Agency – Form 13A (if you cannot easily obtain your income tax returns and notice of assessments for the past 3 years)
- A Support Deduction Order Information form (This is not a court form but is available at the court office.)

If you are making a claim in relation to property, or one has been made in the Application, you need:

 A Net Family Property Statement – Form 13B

Refer to the Financial Statements Guide for more information.

Step 3: Fill in the forms.

- 1. Fill in all forms carefully, follow all instructions on the forms, and include all the information asked for.
- Update the Table of Contents page from the Continuing Record by adding all of the forms you are completing and will be serving on the applicant.
- 3. Make two copies of:
 - Your completed Answer Form 10
 - Your completed Financial Statement (Support Claims) – Form 13 or Financial Statement (Property and Support Claims) – Form 13.1
 - The updated Table of Contents

4. Keep one copy of the documents for your file. Keep a second copy of all documents to serve on the applicant (see Step 4). The originals will be filed at the court office (see Step 5).

Need help completing the forms? Go to the end of this guide for samples.

Step 4: Serve the applicant with the documents.

- Arrange to provide the applicant with a copy of:
 - Your completed Answer
 - Your completed Financial Statement/Net Family Property Statement (if applicable)
 - The updated Table of Contents

In most cases, you can serve the applicant with your documents by mailing them to the applicant's lawyer or if none, to the applicant.

 After the applicant has been served, the person who served them must complete an Affidavit of Service – Form 6B before a commissioner for taking affidavits.

Refer to the General Information Sheet – "Serving Documents" for more information.

Step 5: File your documents at the court office.

After the applicant has been served and the Affidavit of Service has been completed, you must go back to the court office to file the originals of all the documents you served, together with the Affidavit of Service. Most of the documents served and filed in the case will go into the Continuing Record. The Affidavit of Service is filed in the court file, not in the Continuing Record.

At the same time, you should update the Table of Contents at the front of the Continuing Record.

Refer to the General Information Sheet – "Filing Documents" for more information.

Remember:

If you do not file an Answer and/or Financial Statement within 30 days (60 days if served outside Canada or the United States), the judge may make a decision based on the applicant's evidence alone. You will have to get the applicant's consent in writing, or an order from the judge, to file your Answer and/or Financial Statement after the time limit.

If you receive documents from Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, make sure you serve them on the applicant and file them as soon as you receive them.

Step 6: Pay any applicable fees.

There may be a fee for filing your Answer. You may pay this fee with cash, cheque or money order payable to the "Minister of Finance." You can find out more about the fees at the court office

Next Steps

Reply

The applicant will have an opportunity to review your Answer and may file a Reply – Form 10A within the time set out in the court rules.

First Court Date/Case Conference

Your next step may be a first court date or case conference. Pick up a copy of the First Court Date and Case Conference Guide to familiarize yourself with the process and the forms that will be needed.

Emergency Motions

If you are in a situation of hardship or urgency, for example:

- You need a restraining order because of an immediate danger to the health or safety of you or your child; or
- Your child is in danger of being removed from Ontario; or
- You are in dire and immediate need of support for yourself or your child;

you may request a temporary order from the court by bringing a motion with your Application.

Refer to the Motions Guide for more information.

Sample Forms

This section contains sample forms that you will need to fill out when filing an Answer.

You may wish to visit the Family Law Information Centre to obtain information about completing court forms.

Some tips on completing all forms:

- Be neat. These are court documents and the court will not take them if they are not neat or the court cannot read them. All court forms must be typed or printed.
- 2. Fill in the name and address of the court where the Application was filed at the top of all court documents.
- 3. Make sure the court file number is on the upper right-hand corner of every page of all of your documents.
- 4. Make enough copies of your completed forms. In most cases you will need to make two copies: one to serve on the other party and one for your files. The original forms will be filed with the court in the Continuing Record.
- 5. When completing the forms, you are asked to fill in the address where documents can be served on you. If being served at your home address would put your physical safety at risk, speak to court or Family Law Information Centre staff about using an alternative address.

Form 10: Answer

This form should be completed by the party responding to the case.

The Answer form allows you to make your own claim if some issues are not dealt with in the Application. Your claim might be against the applicant or against any other person.
