TORONTO CENTRAL LOCAL HEALTH INTEGRATION NETWORK

Listed below are the backgrounds of the new board members selected for the Toronto Central Local Health Integration Network.

Rajula Atherton

Rajula Atherton is a chartered accountant and management consultant with the firm Atherton & Atherton. As a partner of this firm since 1988, she has provided financial, tax, information technology, strategic planning, change and project management advisory services to a wide array of public and private sector clients including Bell Canada, Legal Aid Ontario, the United Nations, World Bank and several provincial ministries. She is treasurer of the Board of Directors of YWCA and a member of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, Project Management Institute and the Institute of Corporate Directors. Past board memberships include Liquor Control Board of Ontario (LCBO) and Seneca College Board of Governors.

Anthony Fell

Tony Fell is chairman of RBC Capital Markets, having been with the firm and its predecessor, Dominion Securities, for 45 years including 18 years as chief executive officer. Fell previously served as deputy chairman of the Royal Bank, chairman of the Investment Dealers Association of Canada, and as a governor of the Toronto Stock Exchange. He has been active in the community with the United Way, the Arthritis Society, the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Program and, most recently, as retired chair of the Board of Trustees of the University Health Network encompassing the Toronto General Hospital, Princess Margaret Cancer Hospital and the Toronto Western Hospital. Fell is currently a Director of BCE Inc., Loblaw Companies, CAE Inc. and chairman of the Munich Reinsurance Company of Canada and he was appointed an Officer of the Order of Canada in 2001.

Nancy Martin

Nancy Martin is currently the executive director of Miziwe Biik Aboriginal Employment and Training, a non-profit organization with a budget of $5 million responsible for funding Aboriginal non-profits in the GTA and employment placement and training for the Aboriginal community in the GTA. Martin's previous employment included School Community Advisor, Toronto Board of Education, Ward 8, Consultant, Community Outreach, George Brown College and Executive Director, Wanepuhnud Corporation.
