Traditional notions about what is a “man’s” job or what is a “woman’s” job are disappearing. More women and men are pursuing education and skills development to prepare for diverse roles. Emerging skill shortages in many areas are contributing to workplace climates where women and men are encouraged to follow their personal interests and abilities.

The Interministerial Women’s Secretariat, the Diversity and Equity Advisory Committee and the PEI Public Service Commission are pleased to share this calendar profiling examples of gender diversity in public service roles in PEI.

Special thanks to the 13 role models who volunteered to appear, to the members of the working group who produced the calendar and to Brian Simpson, Multimedia Services.

For further information on the Diversity and Equity Program, contact Thilak Tennekone, PEI Public Service Commission, 368-4184, e-mail ttennekone@gov.pe.ca or check the Web site www.gov.pe.ca/diversity.
