At Monk Office, we live and breathe office products, so you don't have to. So when you have questions simply call, fax or email me or talk to anyone in our Customer Service department. We'll help you find what you need. Plus, when you work with any of our Office Furniture specialists, our delivery service people, distribution centre staff or our head office team, you'll discover that there are more than 100 helpful office people who pride themselves on taking very good care of your office needs.

If you haven't used C.L.I.P.S.®, our online shopping service, we invite you to visit our website at www.monk.ca. Be our guest and get a feel for CLIPS; the link is right on our homepage. Once you're set up as a CLIPS account user with us, you can shop online 24/7/365. And, though your discount with us is already contracted, if an item is on sale at a lower price than your contracted price -- you'll always see and receive the lowest price for the products you order, guaranteed.
