NOTE:

If you receive a payment, you will be required to meet all participation requirements for business risk management programming for the 2003 program year. Program rules and requirements for this new program, the Canadian Agricultural Income Stabilization (CAIS) Program, will apply once the program is in place.

Applying for Producer Assistance 2003 is optional and is not required in order to participate in risk management programs for 2003. Any payment you receive under Producer Assistance 2003 will be considered an advance of benefits for the 2003 program year. Once your final 2003 program forms are processed, your account will be reconciled for any monies owed or overpaid to you.
