Information Resource Management Plan

Effective and efficient management of information technology and resources in the form of human and systems capital are critical to achievement of the ministry's service plan goals, objectives and performance targets.

A road map for moving forward will be covered by the ministry's Information Resource Management Plan which is currently under development and will be incorporated in the 2006/07 – 2008/09 service plan. It is expected to be completed by March 15, 2006.
