

SATIN MOTH (Leucoma salicis)

Caterpillars grow up to 5 cm long and appear in May and late July. They pupate shortly after, emerging as a white moth in July to lay eggs on leaves. Emerging larvae skeletonize poplar and willows until fall, when they overwinter in a silken cocoon-like bag attached to trunks or branches. (See caterpillars.)

B. Duncan

Satin Moth (Leucoma salicis)

B. Duncan

Satin Moth Larvae (Leucoma salicis)