

Abies (True Fir)

Current Season Necrosis

A physiological disorder affecting grand and noble firs. Symptoms appear in late June to early July on new growth and differ from one tree to the next. Portions of the needles turn yellow, then tan and finally darken to a reddish brown. Entire needles may change colour followed by severe needle loss.

Current Season Needle Necrosis