

Acer

Leaf Scorch (Xylella)

This problem is typically caused by heat and drought stress and is common on red and lace leaf A. palmatum. Browning and withering of leaves begins at the leaf margins, progressing to the veins. For control, ensure that susceptible varieties are watered in containers and kept out of hot dry winds.

Leaf Scorch of Acer