Delay

20 An act or event that creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation represented by a security certificate, or that sets a date on or after which a security certificate is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, does not by itself constitute notice of an adverse claim except in the case of a transfer that takes place more than:

- (a) one year after a date set for presentation or surrender for redemption or exchange; or

(2) A purchaser to whom subsection (1) applies in relation to an uncertificated security has control of the uncertificated security even if the registered owner retains the right:

- (a) to make substitutions for the uncertificated security;
- (b) to originate instructions to the issuer; or
- (c) to otherwise deal with the uncertificated security.

Purchaser's control of security entitlement

25(1) A purchaser has control of a security entitlement if:

- (a) to make substitutions for the security entitlement;
- (b) to originate entitlement orders to the securities intermediary; or
- (c) to otherwise deal with the security entitlement.

(2) An issuer that has entered into an agreement of the kind referred to in clause 24(1)(b) is not required to confirm the existence of the agreement to another person unless requested to do so by the registered owner.

(3) An issuer is not required to enter into an agreement of the kind referred to in clause 24(1)(b) even if the registered owner so requests.

Agreement re control of security entitlement

(3) A securities intermediary is not required to enter into an agreement of the kind referred to in clause 25(1)(b) even if the entitlement holder so requests.

Endorsements, Instructions and Entitlement OrdersEffectiveness of endorsement, etc.

29 An endorsement, instruction or entitlement order is effective if:

- (a) it is made by the appropriate person;
- (b) it is made by a person who, in the case of an endorsement or instruction, has the power under the law of agency to transfer the security, or in the case of an entitlement order, has the power under the law of agency to transfer the financial asset, on behalf of the appropriate person, including:
 - (i) in the case of an instruction referred to in clause 24(1)(b), the person who has control of the uncertificated security; or
 - (ii) in the case of an entitlement order referred to in clause 25(1)(b), the person who has control of the security entitlement; or
- (c) the appropriate person has ratified it or is otherwise precluded from asserting its ineffectiveness.

Effectiveness of endorsement, etc., made by representative

30 An endorsement, instruction or entitlement order made by a representative is effective even if:

- (a) the representative has failed to comply with a controlling instrument or with the law of the jurisdiction governing the representative's rights and duties, including any law requiring the representative to obtain court approval of the transaction; or
- (b) the representative's action in making the endorsement, instruction or entitlement order or using the proceeds of the transaction is otherwise a breach of duty owed by the representative.

Endorsement, etc., remains effective

31 If a security is registered in the name of or specially endorsed to a person described as a representative, or if a securities account is maintained in the name of a person described as a representative, an endorsement, instruction or entitlement order made by the person is effective even if the person is no longer serving in that capacity.

Date when effectiveness is determined

32(1) The effectiveness of an endorsement, instruction or entitlement order is determined as of the date that the endorsement, instruction or entitlement order is made.

(2) An endorsement, instruction or entitlement order does not become ineffective by reason of any later change of circumstances.

Warranties Applicable to Direct Holdings*Warranties on transfer of certificated security

33 A person who transfers a certificated security to a purchaser for value warrants to the purchaser and, if the transfer is by endorsement, also warrants to any subsequent purchaser, that:

- (a) the security certificate is genuine and has not been materially altered;
- (b) the transferor does not know of any fact that might impair the validity of the security;
- (c) there is no adverse claim to the security;

- (2) A reference described in clause (1)(b) does not by itself constitute notice to a purchaser for value of a defect that goes to the validity of the security, even if the security certificate expressly states that a person accepting it admits notice.
- (3) The terms of an uncertificated security include those stated in any instrument, indenture or other document or in a statute, regulation, rule, order or the like under which the security is issued.

Enforcement of security

57(1) An unauthorized signature placed on a security certificate before or in the course of issue is ineffective except that the signature is effective in favour of a purchaser for value of the certificated security if the purchaser is without notice of the lack of authority and the signing has been done by:

- (a) an authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the signing of the security certificate or of any similar security certificate or with the immediate preparation for signing of any of those security certificates; or

Other defences

59 All other defences of the issuer of a security that are not referred to in sections 56 to 58, including non-delivery and conditional delivery of a security, are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken the security without notice of the particular defence.

Right to cancel contract

60 Nothing in sections 56 to 59 affects the right of a party to a “when, as and if issued” contract or a “when distributed” contract to cancel the contract in the event of a material change in the character of the security that is the subject of the contract or in the plan or arrangement under which the security is to be issued or distributed.

Staleness as notice of defect or defence

61(1) After an act or event that creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation represented by a certificated security or that sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, a purchaser is deemed to have notice of any defect in the security’s issue or of any defence of the issuer:

(a) if:

(i) the act or event requires that, on presentation or surrender of the security certificate, money be paid, a certificated security be delivered or a transfer of an uncertificated security be registered;

- (a) the security is a certificated security and the restriction is noted conspicuously on the security certificate; or
- (b) the security is an uncertificated security and the registered owner has been given a notice of the restriction by a person required to give such notice in order to make the restriction effective.

Completion of security certificate

63(1) If a security certificate contains the signatures necessary to the security's issue or transfer but is incomplete in any other respect:

- (a) any person may complete the security certificate by filling in the blanks in accordance with the person's authority; and
- (b) even if any of the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the security certificate as completed is enforceable by a purchaser who took the security certificate for value and without notice of the incorrectness.

(2) A complete security certificate that has been improperly altered, even if fraudulently, remains enforceable, but only according to its original terms.

Rights and duties of issuer re registered owners

64(1) Before due presentation for registration of transfer of a certificated security in registered form or the receipt of an instruction requesting registration of transfer of an uncertificated security, an issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner as the person exclusively entitled:

- (b) the person's own participation in the issue of the security is within the person's capacity and within the scope of the authority received by the person from the issuer; and
- (c) the person has reasonable grounds to believe that the certificated security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, a person signing a security certificate under subsection (1) does not assume responsibility for the validity of the security in any respect other than that set out in subsection (1).

Issuer's lien

66 A lien in favour of an issuer on a certificated security is valid against a purchaser only if the right of the issuer to the lien is noted conspicuously on the security certificate.

Overissue

67(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (2) and (3), the provisions of this Act that make a security enforceable against an issuer despite a defence or defect or that compel a security's issue or reissue do not apply to the extent that the application of such provision would result in an overissue.

(2) If an identical security not constituting an overissue is reasonably available for purchase, a person entitled to issue of a security, or a person entitled to enforce a security against an issuer despite a defence or defect as provided under section 57, 58 or 59 or under a similar law of another jurisdiction, may compel the issuer to purchase the security and deliver it, if certificated, or register its transfer, if uncertificated, against surrender of any security certificate the person holds.

(3) If an identical security not constituting an overissue is not reasonably available for purchase, a person entitled to issue of a security, or a person entitled to enforce a security against an issuer despite a defence or defect as provided under section 57, 58 or 59 or under a similar law of another jurisdiction, may recover from the issuer the price that the last purchaser for value paid for the security with interest from the date of the person's demand.

72 An endorsement of a security certificate, if the endorsement purports to be in respect of only some of the units represented by the certificate, is effective to the extent of the endorsement if the units are intended by the issuer to be separately transferable.

When endorsement constitutes transfer of security

73 An endorsement of a security certificate, whether special or in blank, does not constitute a transfer of the security:

(a) until the delivery of the security certificate on which the endorsement appears; or

(b) if the endorsement is on a separate document, until the delivery of both the security certificate and the document on which the endorsement appears.

Endorsement missing

74 If a security certificate in registered form has been delivered to a purchaser without a necessary endorsement, the purchaser may become a protected purchaser only when the endorsement is supplied, but against the transferor, the transfer is complete on delivery and the purchaser has a specifically enforceable right to have any necessary endorsement supplied.

Notice of adverse claim on endorsement

75 A purported endorsement of a security certificate in bearer form may constitute notice of an adverse claim to the security certificate, but the purported endorsement does not otherwise affect any right that the holder has.

 - (c) that the issuer will withhold registration of transfer for a period stated in the notice in order to provide the person who initiated the demand an opportunity to obtain legal process or to provide an indemnity bond referred to in section 90.
- (3) The period that may be provided for under clause (2)(c) shall not exceed 30 days from the date the notice was given and the issuer may specify a shorter period in the notice so long as the shorter period being specified is not manifestly unreasonable.

Liability of issuer re demand to not register transfer

90(1) An issuer is not liable, to a person who initiated a demand under section 88 that the issuer not register a transfer, for any loss that the person suffers as a result of the registration of a transfer in accordance with an effective endorsement or instruction if the person who initiated the demand does not, within the time stated in the issuer's notice given under section 89, either:

- (a) obtain an appropriate restraining order, injunction or other process from a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining the issuer from registering the transfer; or
 - (b) provide the issuer with an indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent, registrar or other agent of the issuer involved from any loss that those persons may suffer by refusing to register the transfer.
- (2) Nothing in subsection (1) or in section 88 or 89 relieves an issuer from liability for registering a transfer under an endorsement or instruction that was not effective.

- (a) the issuer has registered a transfer of a security to a person not entitled to the security; and

 - (iv) acting in collusion with the wrongdoer.

- (2) An issuer that is liable for the wrongful registration of transfer under subsection (1) shall, on demand, provide the person entitled to the security with:
- (a) a like certificated or uncertificated security, as the case may be; and
 - (b) any payments or distributions that the person did not receive as a result of the wrongful registration.
- (3) If the provision of a security under subsection (2) would result in an overissue, the issuer's liability to provide the person with a like security is governed by section 67.
- (4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (1) or in any applicable law of Canada or of any province or territory of Canada relating to the collection of taxes, an issuer is not liable to an owner or other person suffering loss as a result of the registration of transfer of a security if the registration was made under an effective endorsement or instruction.

Replacement of security certificate lost, etc.

 - (b) provides the issuer with an indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer from any loss that the issuer may suffer by issuing a new certificate; and
 - (c) satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.
- (2) If, after the issue of a new security certificate, a protected purchaser of the original security certificate presents the original security certificate for the registration of transfer, the issuer:
- (a) shall register the transfer unless the registration would result in an overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by section 67;
 - (b) may exercise the rights the issuer may have under the indemnity bond referred to in clause (1)(b); and
 - (c) may recover the new security certificate from a person to whom it was issued or from any person, other than a protected purchaser, taking under that person.

93 An owner of a security may not assert against the issuer a claim for wrongful registration of transfer under section 91 or a claim to a new security certificate under section 92 if:
