W	F-1 ACRE recommends that the Government of Saskatchewan conduct a comprehensive review to assess the province's competitiveness.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A Competitiveness Branch has been established within Saskatchewan Industry and Resources (SIR). The Branch will examine barriers to investment and growth through consideration of taxation issues, labour issues, regulatory reform, investment attraction, and incentive programs.</li> <li>• The provincial government is participating in discussions to harmonize Securities Commission approval processes across the country. Implementation of a passport system is proceeding with a targeted implementation date of September 2005. Under a passport system, approval in one jurisdiction will enable an applicant to operate in another jurisdiction which is party to the agreement without going through the Securities Commission approval process again.</li> <li>• The Premier's Investment Attraction Council was formed to seek out opportunities to increase investment in Saskatchewan.</li> <li>• Effective October 1, 2002, the government introduced lower royalty and production tax structures on production from new oil and gas wells and projects, introduced a new system of volume incentives, and reduced the Corporation Capital Tax surcharge. The province also introduced changes to benefit horizontal and deep wells and established a new royalty and production tax regime for natural gas produced by-product from oil wells.</li> </ul>	Acknowledge the response, but province needs to review this area on an on-going basis. ACRE should consider reviewing other aspects of provincial competitiveness in the next phase of ACRE.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• In 2003, the government made substantial changes to the royalty tax structure for potash. The changes included removing the profit tax component for incremental sales above the 2000-2001 average sales level and permitted capital spending in excess of 90 per cent of the 2001 spending level to be depreciated at 100 per cent.</li> <li>• In 2001, the government also made changes with respect to uranium. Taxes were changed from a profit basis to an ad valorem (percentage based on sales) basis and the top marginal tax rate was reduced from 50 per cent to 19 per cent.</li> <li>• In the 2002 Budget, the Corporation Capital Tax exemption was increased from $10 million to $15 million depending on a company's proportion of employment in Saskatchewan.</li> <li>• In September of 2002, a six year mineral exploration incentive program was introduced. Components of the program include providing incentives to prospectors and exploration companies to initiate new mineral exploration, the development of a competitive diamond royalty and tax structure and rebates on fuel tax used in off-road mineral exploration activities and for remote power generation.</li> <li>• In March 2005, an independent Business Tax Review Committee headed by Mr. Jack Vicq, was appointed to examine Saskatchewan's business taxes relative to</li> </ul>

AV	F-2 Explores the adoption of a "Saskatchewan Value-Added Tax Credit" by December 2002.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Tax Incentive programs for the manufacturing and processing sector in Saskatchewan consist of the Manufacturing and Processing Profits Tax Reduction and the Manufacturing and Processing Investment Tax Credit. Both programs apply to firms in the manufacturing and processing industries.</li> <li>• The two existing "value-added" tax incentives will continue to be examined in terms of their effectiveness and in terms of government's overall taxation policy and fiscal capacity.</li> <li>• The Vicq Commission is currently examining into all aspects of business taxation in the province. Once its report is issued, government will assess its recommendations within the context of the 2006-07 budget development process.</li> <li>• The independent Business Tax Review Committee headed by Mr. Jack Vicq will examine various tax incentives, including a value-added tax credit, and make recommendations by November 30, 2005, to increase the province's competitiveness and encourage investment and job creation.</li> </ul>	This recommendation was superseded by Recommendation P-006 and has therefore been classed as complete. P-006 remains a work in progress.

A	F-14 Actively encourage immigrant producers that have experience in growing products which take full advantage of irrigation opportunities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Saskatchewan Agriculture and Food (SAF) has increased both the human and financial resources that are working to market the Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program in foreign markets. Efforts have been mainly focused in the United Kingdom (UK), and Netherlands because, according to Statistics Canada analysis, new rural immigrants to Canada have traditionally come from Western Europe and that is expected to continue. As well, the types of skills required to broaden and deepen the rural economy are found in these two markets (e.g., livestock, irrigation, special crops, value-added and distribution). SAF has a strategy in these two markets which includes: targeted advertising in the farm press; presentations at agriculture schools; in-person meetings with farmers; booths at immigration trade shows in both countries; provision of marketing materials as support to Saskatchewan realtors promoting their services; provision of agronomic information; and assistance with planning to incoming farmers visiting Saskatchewan.</li> <li>• The province is opening the Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program (SINP) which will do away with specific skill categories and make it easier for immigrants to access employment opportunities in any sector and for rural Saskatchewan employers to recruit immigrant employees.</li> <li>• The province is working with business, industry, and the agricultural sector to address specific skill</li> </ul>	Provision of agronomic function critical. Accept response, but province needs to keep up to date on the changes occurring.
