

Saskatchewan Online (Curriculum Resources – Various Levels)

University of Regina

Objectives for Innovation

Web-based educational resources

Intended Audience

Learners seeking information about Saskatchewan

Students in K-12

Results Achieved

Interactive web-based resources promoting Saskatchewan electronically across the world

Information technology experience for students helping to develop and maintain the web site

Implementation

January 1998

Program Web Site

<http://tdi.uregina.ca/~sask/>

Additional Benefits

Students employed to develop materials for this program apply their acquired expertise in further study and work assignments

The Saskatchewan Online web site hosts a variety of instructional resources about the province for various levels and subjects of study.

Saskatchewan Online provides information on tourism, education, business and the government. It also profiles sites of interest to First Nations communities.

Developers collect information from schools as part of a friendly competition to engage students in historical and current affairs research about their communities.

The web site helps to promote Saskatchewan to the vastly expanding electronic global marketplace.

Contact

Dr. Brien Maguire, Department of Computer Science, Faculty of Science

Phone: (306) 585-4756

Fax: (306) 585-4745

E-mail: brien.maguire@uregina.ca