The Loan Increase Application form (CF11) is to be used when a member applies for an increase in the maximum loan that can be taken by the association on the member's behalf.

Policies

- 1) The maximum total association loan limit (feeder and breeder options combined) for a member must not exceed $225,000.
 - If a member's maximum combined loan limit is already at $225,000, the member must reduce the loan limit in one option to be eligible for an increased loan limit in the other option.

- 1) The member completes his/her full legal name, mailing address, phone number(s), date of birth and primary lending institution(s), signature and date, and submit it to the association for approval.
- 2) The board of directors reviews the application, verifies the applicant's residency and either approves or rejects the application.
 - The board of directors should use the Board of Directors' Application Review Checklist (CF12) as a guide when reviewing all applications.
 - When approved, the application must be signed by a board member with signing authority prior to forwarding it to the lender for approval and signature.
- 3) The lender reviews the application, conducts the normal credit checks, and either approves or rejects the application.
 - If approved, the lender signs and dates the application and forwards it to the provincial supervisor for final confirmation and approval.
- 4) The provincial supervisor reviews the application as a final confirmation of member eligibility and history of activity in the feeder and/or breeder option.
 - If approved, the provincial supervisor signs and dates the application and returns the original to the association with a copy to the lender.
- 5) Upon receipt of the application approved by the provincial supervisor, the lender may advance funds to the association to purchase cattle on behalf of the new member, up to the approved amount.
