Definition of Custom Feeding

For purposes of the Livestock Loan Guarantee Program, custom feeding is defined as any arrangement when a member agrees to pay a feedlot, or another producer, to feed or care for association cattle on the member's behalf, either through cash payment or in the form of through a cow lease agreement.

- 3) On completion of a Custom Feeding Agreement (Long-Term), the custom operator waives all rights to a lien under Section 15.1 of The Animal Products Act with respect to any debts incurred during the term of the agreement.
- 4) A custom operator does not have any lien rights pursuant to Section 15.1 of The Animal Products Act with respect to the cattle being custom fed unless, before beginning custom feeding, the custom operator provides the producer association and the provincial supervisor with a copy of a statement of intent to custom feed between the custom operator and the member on whose behalf the cattle are being fed.
