

Honorary Members and Fellows of The Entomological Society of Canada

The Entomological Society of Canada honours up to ten entomologists who have made important contributions to entomology by naming them Honorary Members. Up to ten percent of the active membership of the Society may be named Fellows of the Society to acknowledge their contributions to entomology or The Entomological Society of Canada. To better recognize these members, their names are provided below along with the year their contributions were honored. Please report any errors or omissions to the Chair, Achievement Awards Committee.
