Sharing Our Vision

Dear Tourism Partner:

The Department of Tourism, Culture and Recreation (TCR) is pleased to provide the Marketing Plan and Opportunities Booklet for 2004, a directory of marketing services and programs available to the tourism industry. The booklet is designed to make it easier for you to take part in the marketing programs that best suit your business. Our goal is to work with local, national and international industry partners to make potential tourists aware of the possibilities for travel to Newfoundland and Labrador.

2004 will be a year of renewed partnership and cooperation with the establishment of the Newfoundland and Labrador Tourism Marketing Council (NLTMC), an industry-government team committed to ensuring that tourism continues to grow. The mandate of the council is to help prepare the marketing strategy and annual marketing plans, and to monitor their implementation. The NLTMC will also assist the Department with industry marketing partnership programs and report annually to the Minister on the status of these programs and the marketing plan. There are 13 industry representatives and two departmental representatives on the NLTMC. The first meeting was held in October, 2003 and council is actively reviewing current programs and preparing for 2005 and beyond. The establishment of the council marks a new era in working together to ensure that our marketing strategy is appropriate for the opportunities and challenges of the future. Over the coming months, you will be hearing more about the NLTMC. Visit www.gov.nl.ca/tcr/nltmc for updates.

For more information, you may contact Shelley Magnússon at shelleyagnusson@gov.nl.ca or 709-729-5251.

Sincerely,

Newfoundland and Labrador Tourism

Sharing Our Vision

YEAR IN REVIEW

The first half of 2003 was among the most difficult period tourism businesses have ever experienced in Canada. War, SARS, airline sector problems, fires, power outages, a general economic slowdown and a strengthened Canadian dollar have compounded the effects of 9/11. The decline in international travel to Canada was dramatic, dropping to volumes last recorded in 1994.

By comparison, Newfoundland and Labrador fared better and did not suffer the direct, severe impacts experienced in other regions of the country. Non-resident visitors and expenditures in 2003 matched statistics recorded in 2002, with 439,400 visitors and $300 million recorded. For the first 11 months of 2003, the province saw an increase in airline visitors that offset declines in auto and cruise visitors.

The introduction of additional low cost carriers, increased domestic travel and new flight connections resulted in increased air passenger movements, from a decrease of eight per cent earlier in the year to an increase of five per cent over the same period in 2002. Specifically, St. John's and Deer Lake airports reported increases of nine and 15 per cent, respectively. Over the peak summer months, both airports reported increases in activity of 20 per cent.

The province's natural heritage sites performed very well in 2003. Camping units registered at provincial parks showed an increase of 13 per cent over 2002. Likewise, available data indicate that visitation at Cape St. Mary's and Burnt Cape Ecological Reserves increased over last year. These increases can be attributed to more residents opting to tour their own province. Fewer residents exited the province by auto this year, contributing to increases at these sites as well as some national and provincial historic sites.

2004 Marketing Plan

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

Touring and Explorer Markets

Newfoundland and Labrador's Touring and Explorer Market consists of the leisure tourists who participate in sightseeing and soft adventure activities. They seek a broad range of vacation experiences based on our diverse blend of significant cultural heritage, soft adventure, and nature viewing experiences. They enjoy cultural activities including shopping, dining, visiting museums, art exhibits, and historic sites. They also enjoy outdoor activities such as hiking, birding, kayaking, and canoeing. Marketing efforts for the Touring and Explorer Market is segmented into "geographic" markets.

Domestic travel within Canada remains the backbone of the Canadian tourism industry. The Canadian Domestic Market comprises 82% of all our non-resident visitors. The areas that offer Newfoundland and Labrador the best marketing cost-effectiveness and market potential are Ontario, the Maritimes and Western Canada. This is due to relative ease of access, affinity or personal connection to our province, and the unique appeal we have as a destination.

The marketing program encourages increased visitation through consumer advertising, media relations and travel trade initiatives. Where general awareness of Newfoundland and Labrador is higher, such as Maritimes and Ontario, we use advertising to communicate with our consumer. Where awareness levels are lower due to physical distance, like the overseas market, we place more emphasis on travel trade activities.

Our touring and explorer marketing efforts will target in the following demographics:

- ages 35 to 54, and heavy emphasis on 55+
- highly educated
- above average income
- active lifestyle, participate in outdoor activities, off the beaten track

ONTARIO MARKET

Ontario represents nearly 46% of the Canadian market and is our highest priority. The focus is on Toronto and the surrounding area. Advertising is weighted toward consumer awareness. This year, advertising weights will be increased with the addition of Tourism Atlantic Marketing Initiative (TAMI).

TAMI is a government of Canada program delivered by ACOA. The initiative will provide funds for tourism marketing efforts in Ontario and Quebec. The total program budget is $5.0 million with a 70% ($3.5 million) contribution from ACOA and the remaining 30% ($1.5 million) contributed by the four Atlantic provinces. Each province will implement an incremental marketing program valued at $1.242 million by March 31, 2004. Newfoundland and Labrador will incrementally increase marketing efforts in our core domestic market of Ontario that will include increased TV, magazine and internet marketing. TAMI will assist the province and our industry to respond to key challenges involving brand awareness, advertising reach and frequency in order to grow visitation and revenue.

MEETINGS, CONVENTIONS AND INCENTIVE TRAVEL MARKET

Meeting and conventions have an important economic impact on the Newfoundland and Labrador economy. Beside the direct benefits of hosting meeting and conventions, there are spin-off benefits from the significant pre- and post-conference stays. The Incentive Travel market is becoming a major focus of the MC&IT marketing effort. Recently, there has been an increase in awareness and interest in Newfoundland and Labrador as an incentive destination. While this market is in the developmental stage, there are export-ready products and services available. As a result, there is an increase in Newfoundland and Labrador incentive travel programming from both national and international incentive travel houses and corporate planners.

Incentive travel is a global management tool that uses an exceptional travel experience to motivate and/or recognize staff for increased levels of performance in support of organizational goals. TCR provides consultation, marketing and product development support to industry suppliers in this lucrative market. Trade shows and marketplaces are available through partnership opportunities in North American markets.

TCR provides consultation, materials support and mailing assistance to international, national and regional conference organizers hosting conventions and meetings in Newfoundland and Labrador.
