

Counterfeit Currency Analysis - an online distance learning course

The RCMP and the Bank of Canada have developed an online distance learning course for those who require basic skills and knowledge about counterfeit bank notes.

This course is available to all police officers and employees of the Bank of Canada.

Topics on this course include:

- Overview of counterfeiting in Canada
- Genuine bank note security features
- Production of genuine bank notes
- How to determine if a bank note is counterfeit
- Equipment used to manufacture counterfeit bank notes
- Criminal law
- Frequently asked questions

This training material would not have been possible without the support of the following:

- RCMP Learning and Development Branch
- RCMP Forensic Laboratory Services Directorate, Bureau for Counterfeit and Document Examinations
- RCMP Commercial Crime Branch
- Bank of Canada, Bank Note Communication and Compliance Team
- BA International Inc.

To register for this course, visit:

http://www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/ctb-fc/distancelearning_e.html (English)

http://www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/ctb-fc/distancelearning_f.html (French)

Once registered, candidates have 30 days to complete the course.

The Bank of Canada provides free materials, tools, and information services to help you quickly, easily and reliably identify genuine bank notes. For more information on the Bank's services:
