

DR. MONA LOUTFY
 Infectious Disease Specialist
 Sunnybrook Health Sciences Centre and North York General Hospital

JOSHUA LIU
 University Student
 Toronto, Ontario

2004 Completes her first triathlon, learning to swim only two months before the race 2003 Is called by a former mentor to battle SARS 2001 and 2002 Receives two separate CIHR postdoctoral training fellowships to support research into HIV 1991 Completes her BSc at the age of 19	2006 Starts university, planning to become a doctor and volunteer with Doctors Without Borders 2006 Shares the stage with Steve Page of the Barenaked Ladies and Toronto Mayor David Miller 2005 Tours Europe with his high-school concert band 2003 Creates Our Kids Our Future, a non-profit group dedicated to ending child poverty
---	---

PRESENT

FUTURE

Canadian Institutes of Health Research
 Instituts de recherche en santé du Canada

The FUTURE — It's yours to change

What's your dream?

- Finding a cure for cancer?
- Helping paralyzed people walk again?
- Keeping your family healthy for a long, long time?
- Still working on it?

Health research can unlock your dreams.

Find out more about your future in health research. It's more than you think.

History, biology, economics, chemistry, engineering, physics, the Internet — they're all part of today's health research.

Synapse — CIHR Youth Connection can help you find your niche. Synapse is a meeting place, a junction where you can connect with health researchers, people who have struggled with the very same questions you face and have found their path.

Cat. No. MR21-83/2007E-PDF
ISBN 978-0-662-44730-6

Find your dream

Visit www.synapse.cihr.gc.ca

