

Humour

Jin-Me Yoon – Clip 9

I think my work is always funny. At least I think so, I mean it's not... I love slapstick. I love Charlie Chaplin. I actually embrace a kind of goofiness myself. But, you know, it sometimes... I deal with also very serious things and issues, or concerns. But I don't think people should not laugh. I mean there is the kind of difficulty and, whatever that might be, in human life. With each other. And how we cause each other suffering, endless suffering. But at the same time there's a tremendous amount of humour in my work, if you just scratch below the surface. That's not always evident, perhaps, to the viewer. But to me it's always there.
