- (b) “written request for access” means a request made pursuant to section 34.

Right of access

32 Subject to this Part, on making a written request for access, an individual has the right to obtain access to personal health information about himself or herself that is contained in a record in the custody or control of a trustee.

Oral request for access

33 Nothing in this Act precludes:

- (a) an individual from making an oral request for access to personal health information about himself or herself that is contained in a record in the custody or control of a trustee; or
- (b) a trustee from responding to an oral request.

Written request for access

34(1) An individual may, in accordance with the regulations, make a written request for access to personal health information about himself or herself that is contained in a record in the custody or control of a trustee.

- (2) A written request for access must:
 - (a) be made to the trustee that the applicant believes has custody or control of the record containing the personal health information; and
 - (b) contain sufficient detail to enable the trustee to identify the personal health information requested.
- (3) An applicant must prove his or her identity to the satisfaction of the trustee.
- (4) The right to make an application for review pursuant to section 42 applies only to written requests for access.

Duty to assist

- (2) On the request of an applicant, a trustee shall:
 - (a) provide an explanation of any term, code or abbreviation used in the personal health information; or

 - (3) The failure of a trustee to respond to a written request for access within the period mentioned in subsection (1) or (2) is deemed to be a decision to refuse to provide access to the personal health information, unless the written request for access is transferred to another trustee pursuant to clause (1)(d).

Extension of time

37(1) A trustee may extend the period set out in subsection 36(1) for a reasonable period not exceeding 30 days where:

- (a) the request is for access to a large number of records or necessitates a search through a large number of records or there is a large number of requests, and completing the work within the original period would unreasonably interfere with the operations of the trustee; or
- (b) consultations that are necessary to comply with the request cannot reasonably be completed within the original period.

(2) A trustee who extends a period pursuant to subsection (1) shall give notice of the extension to the applicant within 30 days after the request is made.

Refusing access

- (b) disclosure of the information would reveal personal health information about another person who has not expressly consented to the disclosure;
- (c) disclosure of the information could reasonably be expected to identify a third party, other than another trustee, who supplied the information in confidence under circumstances in which confidentiality was reasonably expected;

- (e) the information was collected principally in anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal or quasi-judicial proceeding; or
- (f) disclosure of the information could interfere with a lawful investigation or be injurious to the enforcement of an Act or regulation.

(2) Where a record contains information to which an applicant is refused access, the trustee shall grant access to as much of the record as can reasonably be severed without disclosing the information to which the applicant is refused access.

(3) Where access to personal health information is refused pursuant to clause (1)(d), a trustee must refer the applicant to the trustees from which the personal health information was collected.

Fee

39 A trustee may charge a reasonable fee not exceeding the prescribed amount to recover costs incurred in providing access to a record containing personal health information.

- (5) A trustee that receives a notice pursuant to subsection (4) must make the amendment or add the notation to any record in the custody or control of the trustee that contains personal health information respecting the individual who requested the amendment.
- (6) A trustee is not required to notify other trustees where an amendment or a notation cannot reasonably be expected to have an impact on the ongoing provision of health services to the individual.
- (7) An amendment required to be made pursuant to this section must not destroy or obliterate existing information in the record being amended, other than registration information.
