

FUNDING TO WRITING AND PUBLISHING, 1998-99

- In 1998-99, the Canada Council for the Arts provided grants worth over $17 million to writing and publishing in Canada.
- The Council awarded $5.3 million in grants to individual professional writers and $12 million to writing and publishing organizations in 1998-99 (see Table 1a). Book publishing support in the form of block grants to 140 publishers totaled $6.5 million, while grants to 89 Canadian literary and art magazines totaled $2.3 million.
- In all, the Canada Council supported about 475 writing and publishing organizations in 1998-99, including Canadian and international publishers, literary magazines, publishing associations, writers' unions, and literary collectives. About 400 individual professional writers received grants through Council programs in 1998-99.
- Funding to writing and publishing comprises about 18% of Canada Council funding to the arts, placing the discipline mid-range in terms of funding allocations (see Table 1b).

SOME FACTS ABOUT WRITING AND PUBLISHING IN CANADA

- According to the 1996 Census of Canada, there are 18,585 writers across the country, a 22% increase from the 1991 census. The 1991 Standard Occupation Classification (SOC)¹ includes the following job titles for writers: Advertising Copywriter, Copywriter, Essayist, Humorist, Novelist, Playwright, Poet, Scientific Writer, Script Writer, Short-Story Writer, Specifications Writer, Speech Writer, Technical Writer, Television Writer, Writer.
- Data from the 1996-1997 Survey of Book Publishers and Exclusive Agents undertaken by Statistics Canada² indicates that title production increased in the 6-year period from 1991 to 1997 from 9000 to almost 11,500 titles. In 1996-97, 511 book publishers and 51 exclusive agents were operating in Canada,

¹Descriptions of artist occupations are contained in the "National Occupational Classification: Occupational Descriptions", published by Employment and Immigration Canada, 1993.

²Statistics Canada's biennial Survey of Book Publishers and Exclusive Agents includes statistics on Canadian publishing firms, titles published and reprinted, and domestic and foreign sales.

- The Survey of Book Publishers and Exclusive Agents offers a complete picture of the overall performance and revenues of the Canadian book publishing industry from 1991 through 1997. The survey notes that “following two years of relative stagnation in 1991-92 and 1992-93, the book publishing industry rebounded with two solid years of performance in 1993-94 and 1994-95. Total revenues in the industry reached over $1.8 billion in 1994-95, spurred on by substantial growth in domestic and export sales.” The survey further notes that, due to this growth, the percentage of publishing and exclusive agency firms operating at a loss had dropped from 40% in 1990-91, to 29% in 1994-95. 1996-97 data, however, indicates that this growth period in domestic and export sales was short-lived, with 49.5% of surveyed publishing firms reporting a loss in 1996-97.
- Statistics Canada’s Survey of Periodical Publishing³ indicates that Canadian periodicals generated total revenues of $9.8 million in 1994-95, and over $1 billion in 1996-97. Operating profits rose from 1.6% of revenues in 1992-93 to 7.0% of revenues in 1996-97, despite a continuing decline in the number of titles. In 1996-97, 1,166 publishers issued 1,552 periodicals and sold 539 million copies. Canadian magazine publishing activity, however, has declined steadily since 1991/92 when 1,292 publishers produced 1,733 titles with a total annual circulation of 575 million copies.

PROFIL DE L'AIDE FINANCIÈRE AU DOMAINE DES LETTRES ET DE L'ÉDITION, 1998-1999

- En 1998-99, le Conseil des Arts du Canada a accordé plus de 17 millions de dollars en subventions aux lettres et édition au Canada.
- En 1998-99, le Conseil a accordé 5,3 millions de dollars à des auteurs professionnels et 12 millions de dollars à des organismes des lettres et de l'édition (voir tableau 1a). L'aide accordée à l'édition du livre, dans le cadre des subventions globales, a totalisé une somme de 6,5 millions de dollars attribuée à 140 éditeurs alors que 89 magazines littéraires et artistiques ont reçu une somme totale de 2,3 millions de dollars.
- En tout, pour l'année 1998-1999, le Conseil des Arts a subventionné environ 475 organismes du domaine des lettres et de l'édition incluant des éditeurs canadiens et internationaux, des magazines littéraires, des associations d'éditeurs, des associations d'écrivains et des collectifs littéraires. En 1998-1999, environ 400 auteurs professionnels ont reçu des subventions dans le cadre des programmes du Conseil.
- Les subventions accordées aux lettres et édition comptent pour environ 18 % de l'aide globale distribuée par le Conseil aux arts ce qui place cette discipline au centre, par rapport aux autres disciplines, en terme d'importance du montant de l'aide attribué (voir tableau 1b).

QUELQUES FAITS SUR LE DOMAINE DES LETTRES ET DE L'ÉDITION AU CANADA

- Selon le Recensement de 1996, il y a 18 585 écrivains au Canada, ce qui représente une augmentation de 22 p. cent par rapport au Recensement de 1991. La Classification type des professions de 1991⁴ fait état, pour les écrivains, des professions suivantes : rédacteur publicitaire, rédacteur d'annonces publicitaires, essayiste, humoriste, romancier, poète, dramaturge, journaliste scientifique, scénariste, nouvelliste, rédacteur de descriptif, rédacteur de discours, rédacteur technique, rédacteur pour la télévision, rédacteur.
- L'Enquête auprès des éditeurs et diffuseurs exclusifs de livres de 1996-97, publiée par Statistique Canada⁵ pour la période de 1991 à 1997, révèle que la publication de livres est passé de 9 000 à presque 11 500 titres en six ans. En

⁴On peut retrouver une description des emplois liés au domaine artistique dans la Classification type des professions publiée par Emplois et Immigration Canada en 1993.

1996-97, on retrouvait 511 maisons d'édition et 51 diffuseurs exclusifs au Canada.

- L'Enquête auprès des éditeurs et diffuseurs exclusifs de livres offre une vue complète de la performance globale de l'industrie de l'édition canadienne et des revenus qu'elle a générés de 1991 à 1997. L'Enquête mentionne que, suite à deux années de stagnation relative, soit 1991-92 et 1992-93, l'industrie de l'édition s'est ressaisie pour connaître deux solides années de performance en 1993-94 et en 1994-95. En 1994-95, grâce à une croissance substantielle du commerce intérieur et des exportations, les revenus globaux de l'industrie ont atteint plus de 1,8 milliards de dollars. L'enquête mentionne aussi que, suite à cette croissance, le pourcentage des maisons d'éditions et des agences de diffuseurs exclusifs fonctionnant à perte est passé de 40 p. cent, en 1990-91, à 29 p. cent en 1994-1995. Toutefois, les données de 1996-97 indiquent que cette période de croissance a été de courte durée puisqu'en 1996-97, 49,5 p. cent des maisons d'édition ont subi une perte.
- L'Enquête sur l'édition du périodique produite⁶ par Statistique Canada révèle que les périodiques canadiens ont généré des revenus globaux de 9,8 millions de dollars en 1994-95 et de plus de 1 milliard de dollars en 1996-97. Les bénéfices d'exploitation sont passés de 1,6 p. cent en 1992-93 à 7 p. cent en 1996-97, en dépit d'un déclin constant du nombre de publications. En 1996-97, 1 166 éditeurs ont publié 1 552 périodiques et ont vendu 539 millions de copies. Cependant, depuis 1991-92, année où 1 292 éditeurs ont publié 1 733 magazines et ont vendu 575 millions de copies, l'activité d'édition du magazine canadien connaît un déclin régulier.
